PRESIDENT'S LIFE IS TREMBLING IN BALANCE

LAST BULLETIN IS MORE HOPEFUL

The President Has a Chance for Life, But His Condition is Critical---If He Lives Through the Crisis Expected Tonight He May Get Well.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.---Official bulletin.---The following bulletin was issued by the president's physicians at 2:30 p. m.:

"The president has more than held his own since morning and his condition justifies the expectation of further improvement. He is better than yesterday at this time.

"Pulse, 123; temperature, 99.4.

"M. D. Mann.
"Herman Mynter.
"Eugene Wasdin.
"Charles G. Stockton.

"George B. Cortelyou, Secretary to the President."

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.---The following bulletin was issued by the president's physicians at 9 o'clock a. m.:

"The president's condition has somewhat improved during the past few hours. There is a better response to stimulation. He is conscious and free from pain. Pulse. 128; temperature, 99.8.

"P. M. Rixey.
"M. D. Mann.

"Charles G. Stockton.

Milburn House, Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13.—There is a chance for President McKinley's life, though it hangs in the balance.

The physicians believe that if the president passes through the night safely there will be reason for strong hope of his recovery.

His family, the two members of the cabinet who remained here, Senator Hanna, Colonel Herrick and others who arrived by special trains this morning are in the drawing room of the Milburn house watching the passing of the fateful moments that may be the last of the man they all love so well and whom the nation has honored in the highest degree. All realize that only a slender hope remains, and all dread a sudden attack of heart failure, which might bring death. Of all the sad household only the wife does not know the truth. She surmises that Mr. McKinley is worse, for she was told this morning it would be better for her not to enter the sick chamber. She assented, but it was with a look of mute appeal in her eyes.

PRESIDENT REALIZES IT.

The president himself seems to realize that his life hangs by a thread, although he has not yet been told how slim the chances are. This morning he looked out of the window. When the nurse sought to adjust the pillow to keep out the light he murmured a feeble protest: "It is so beautiful," said he; "the trees are so beautiful, I want to see them."

The doctors, it is needless to say, are doing all that medical science and skill can do to save the president to his country.

Dr. W. W. Johnson, of Washington, and Dr. Janeway, of New York, two of the most eminent heart specialists in the United States, have been summoned to lend their skill and counsel, and Dr. McBurney, the noted surgeon, who left yesterday, has been recalled. He advanced the theory before he left that the accelerated pulse might be due to the after-effects of the shock of the first bullet against the breast bone now manifesting itself for the first time.

The present condition, generally speaking, is fairly satisfactory, and after this crisis is passed there is hope of his recovery. If the heart action be controlled and strengthened the crisis now existing would pass.

PREPARING FOR THE WORST.

But everything is being prepared for the worst.

Vice President Roosevelt and the absent members of the cabinet have been telegraphed for and are speeding here as fast as steam and steel can bring them.

When the sinking spell occurred about 2 o'clock this morning it was feared Mr. McKinley might expire at any moment, as he did not respond to ordinary stimulants. It was only when recourse was had to the desperate resource of injecting saline solution, which saved Mrs. McKinley's life in San Francisco, into his veins that the circulation grew stronger and after an hour he rallied somewhat. His pulse at one time was almost 140. But the rally came and returning hope with it. With the fresh energies of daylight the president appeared perceptibly stronger and the physicians announced in their 8 o'clock bulletin that his condition was improved.

The pulse had fallen several points from the highest and they affirmed the existence of hope.

Dr. Mann declared most emphatically that it was absurd to say the president was dying.

The lowering of the pulse to 123 noted in the bulletin was considered the most encouraging feature of the 2:30 p. m. bulletin, but the statement that he was better than at the same hour yesterday necessitated explanation in view of the extremely serious and dangerous condition which it is now admitted the president is in.

BULLETIN EXPLAINED.

The explanation given was that the accumulation of undigested food in the stomach had at that time become as rank as ptomaine and that a bolus of calomel and oil had to be given. It was exceedingly drastic. When the relief came exhaustion followed.

Dr. Mynter was the first physician to leave the afternoon conference, and he seemed more hopeful than earlier in the day. To the newspaper men he said:

"The president is somewhat improved and the prospect is now more hopeful. He is taking some nourishment, including clam broth. There is no danger that he will starve to death. Six days is not long, and now very little food does him. I feel better about the case."

"The main trouble is that heart, is it not?"

"Yes, the heart."

WOULD SAY NOTHING.

"What would you say was the exact trouble with the heart?"

"If anybody should ask you," replied the doctor, "tell them I would say nothing."

"Is there any organic trouble with the heart?"

"None that we could discover."

"Is there any idea that the bullet was poisoned?"

"Absolutely none."

Dr. Locke, pastor of one of the Methodist churches in the city, called at 3:30 p. m., but it was purely a voluntary call. He was not summoned.

A FURTHER EXPLANATION.

Secretary Cortelyou walked over to the press headquarters shortly after the bulletin dated 2:30 p. m. was issued and explained that the sentence in the bulletin, "He is better than yesterday at this time," should be stricken out.

When the physicians were preparing the bulletin, he said, they had in mind the president's condition yesterday up to midnight. It will be remembered that it was just before that time when the first very alarming intimations began to come from the sick room about the impossibility of securing from the president's stomach the undigested food, which not only threatened to contaminate the system, but which caused him exceedingly great discomfort. Resort had been had to a drastic bolus of calomel and oil.

Just at midnight this radical remedy had its effect and the movement of the bowels came, bringing with it an immediate lowering of pulse and great relief.

BEGIN TO SINK.

President McKinley began to sink shortly after 2 o'clock this morning after a critical period of twelve hours, in which alarm and hope mingled in the emotions of those who surrounded him. The trouble began on the preceding afternoon through the failure of the digestive organs to perform their functions.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the physicians and nurses detected a weakening of the heart action. The pulse fluttered and weakened and the president sank toward collapse. The end appeared to be at hand. Restoratives were speedily applied and the physicians fought the battle with the reserve force of science.

HEROIC MEASURES.

Action was immediate and decisive. Digitalis and strychnine were administers and as a last resort a saline solution was injected into the veins. A general alarm went speeding to the consulting physicians and trained nurses as fast as messengers, the telegraph and telephone could it. The restoratives did not at once prove effective and it was realized that the president was in an extremely critical condition. That realization with the shadow of death beside it led to another call, and that a summons to the cabinet, relatives and close personal friends of the president. The messengers who returned with the doctors and nurses were hurried off after those within reach, and to those who were absent from the city telegrams conveying the painful tidings were quickly transmitted by telegraph.

THE FIRST ILL NEWS.

A messenger who darted into the rain and was whicked away in an electric cab gave the outside watchers the first intimation of the ill news from within. At the same moment new lights were burning within the windows of the Milburn residence. Soon the word was passed out that the president had partially collapsed and was critically ill. It was a confession hardly needed, for the fact had been established by action that needed no words.

The newspaper correspondents who had already sent warnings of a serious change in the president's condition rushed to the improvised telegraph offices with the first bulletin. An automobile racing at top speed brought Dr. Mynter.

LITTLE ENCOURAGEMENT.

FROM MINNESOTA

GENERAL SICKLES WITHDREW FROM THE RACE.

A CLOUD OVER CONVENTION

NEWS FROM PRESIDENT GIVES GREAT ANXIETY.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 13.—Judge Eli Torrance, of Minneapolis, was unanimously elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at today's session of the annual convention.

Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, of New York, withdrew from the fight, leaving the field to Stewart and Torrance. The western man had been quietly gaining in strength on his own personality since the opening of the encampment. The withdrawal of Sickles also threw a heavy vote to Torrance, so that when the balloting commenced the latter had a walkaway.

The balloting stood 230 to 476 in favor of Torrance when Comrade Wagner, who had the Stewart interests in hand, moved to make Torrance's election unanimous. The election of officers was the only business before the convention today, all other business, including the report of the pension committee, having been referred to the council of administration.

GLOOM IN CONVENTION.

The unfavorable news regarding the condition of the president cast a decided gloom over the convention. There was a manifest disinclination to transact any business while the death of the chief executive seemed imminent. Consequently, the election of officers was rushed and the thirty-fifth annual convention of the G. A. R. abruptly terminated.

The naming of the place for holding the next encampment was referred to the administration council, which meets late this afternoon.

A RUMOR OF SETTLEMENT

Shaffer to Visit New York to Consider New Proposition for Bringing Peace.

New York, Sept. 13—It was learned today from a reliable quarter that proposals for a settlement of the steel strike are again under consideration in this city. It was also stated that President Shaffer is expected here today or tomorrow, but his coming is not the result of any communication from this city.

SHAFFER OUT OF SIGHT.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 13.—President Shaffer was again absent from his office today and rumors were current that a settlement of the strike had been made. From an official source it was learned that negotiations were in progress, but that nothing definite had been accomplished as yet.

One report had it that a settlement had been effected with the American Tin Plate officials and that conferences would now be held with the officials of the steel sheet and steel hoop companies. A notice posted at the Star plant of the tin plate company today that nothing has or can occur in the future to affect the operation of the plant on a strictly non-union basis, is regarded as a denial of the above.

The Amalgamated Journal in today's issue gives the result of the Civic Federation conference in New York. The members recommended the acceptance of the final terms of the combine, but the Journal says President Shaffer was unable to get the executive committee together before the expiration of the time limit.

The Amalgamated board then decided to make another effort to get negotiations started, and President Shaffer at once proceeded to ascertain what could be accomplished.

During the morning two carriages of non-union men were captured by Monongehela tin plate strikers and the men chased into the city. Two hundred Hungarians eluded the McKeesport strikers and entered the tube works.

WILL WED AT CLEVELAND.

Invitations have been received in the city for the marriage of Miss Flora Marie Koch, of Cleveland, and William C. Slater, of this city, which will be solemnized at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. M. C. Mill, in Cleveland, next Wednesday, Sept. 18. Mr. Slater is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Slater of this city, and is a very popular young man, holding the responsible position of stenographer to Mr. Strawbridge, of the Bass works. His father, Joseph Slater, is foreman of the blacksmith department of the works, and among the guests at the wedding will be Mr. and Mrs. Slater, of this city, and Dr. and Mrs. George Slater, of Chicago. The newly wedded couple will be at home at 19 Bass street, this city, after October 10, and they will be warmly congratulated by a wide circle of friends.

TAKES HOWISON'S PLACE ON SCHLEY COURT.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Admiral Ramsay, at one time chief of the bureau of navigation, has been selected as Howison's successor on the Schley court.

Admiral Dewey informed Admiral Schley by telephone today that the court of inquiry will resume its sessions at 11 o'clock on Monday morning next.

CONCERN IN PARIS.

Paris, Sept. 13.—The grave condition of President McKinley has aroused the keenest anxiety in all circles. The correspondent of the Associated Press communicated the news of the president's relapse to Ambassador Porter and Consul General Gowdy, who had no official advices on the subject. They were both deeply concerned and surprised, in view of the recent favorable bulletins. The latest dispatches announcing that the president showed signs of improvement have slightly relieved the tension. Further news is awaited with eagerness.

LOCAL LINES.

Barney Novitskey, the shoe dealer, had a magnificent sign mounted over his door, on Calhoun street, yesterday.

J. Alringer, of 197 Ewing street, has accepted a position as bookkeeper for the Hoosier Glove and Mitten company.

George Wallace, Henry Strass and Jacob Garber, prominent business men of Columbia City, are in Fort Wayne today on business.

Miss Nellie Morgan, daughter of Conductor and Mrs. Joseph Morgan, has returned from Laporte, Ind., where she was the guest of Mrs. E. Kirkup a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Willson and two children, who have been visiting relatives in Grand Rapids, will arrive here tomorrow and be Mr. Willson's parents' guests a few days, and then go to Buffalo. Mr. and Mrs. Willson reside in Grand Forks, N. D.

J. W. Hall has been granted a permit to erect a house on Ferguson street to cost $1,200; L. F. Curdes, house on Taber street, at a cost of $2,200, and another on Maple avenue at a cost of $3,000; W. J. Randall, house in Lakeside Park addition, to cost $1,400.

A very enjoyable social event was that Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Krone, at Cass and Fourth streets, in honor of Mr. Krone's birthday anniversary. Progressive pedro was among the amusements, first prizes being won by Mrs. J. Gusching and T. Koch, while the consolations were awarded to Mrs. D. Beaker and W. Krone.

CHICAGO REDS IN DANGER OF HARM

HABEAS CORPUS ACTION HEARD.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Hearing on the writ of habeas corpus issued Wednesday for the release of the anarchists under arrest here began before Judge Chetlain in the criminal court at 11:40 a. m. today.

Because of numerous determined threats of lynching the prisoners, made by angry citizens on the streets this morning, Judge Chetlain decided to hear the habeas corpus cases of the anarchists in the criminal court building instead of in the county building. The county building is in the down town district, where bulletins, telling of the president's condition, are liberally posted.

The anarchists are locked up in the jail just to the rear of the criminal court building, the two being connected by a covered court way. It is five blocks from the jail to the county building, where Judge Chetlain ordinarily sits. Sheriff Magerstadt moved among the excited crowds during the morning and heard threats of lynching freely made. Fearing that an attack might be made in bringing the prisoners down town, he went to the judge and requested him to make the change. He told Judge Chetlain that the crowds were angry and that every bulletin from the president's bedside made them more threatening. Judge Chetlain readily consented to the change.

"The anger of the crowd is justifiable," said Chief of Police O'Neill. "I feel with them, but there will be no lynching in Chicago. It is impossible. The sheriff's precautions are wise. It has been a long time since I have seen a Chicago crowd as angry as this one."

PRISONERS BROUGHT IN.

Judge Chetlain arrived at 11:30 a. m. and a few minutes later the nine prisoners charged with conspiracy to kill the president were led in and given seats behind a row of bailiffs. Sheriff Magerstadt was present in person. Throughout the room were deputy sheriffs and detectives in plain clothes, the sheriff having determined to take every possible precaution against trouble.

The writ of habeas corpus having been complied with by the production of the nine prisoners in court, counsel then made returns in behalf of the sheriff, the chief of police and Justice Prindiville, who, according to the peition, held the prisoners under restraint illegally. The prisoners brought into court were: Abraham Isaak, Abraham Isaak, jr., Clemens Pfeutner, Hippolyte Havel, Henry Travaglio, Michael Roz, Martin Roznick and Morris J. Fox. Emma Goldman was not present, but Justice Prindiville had promised to follow whatever decision was made by Judge Chetlain.

ATTORNEY WAS EXCITED.

Leopold Saltiel, representing the prisoners, opened the argument asking for the release of his clients on the grounds that they were being held without a shadow of legal reason. Attorney Saltiel claimed, in an excited voice, that all the papers in the case were insufficient and were issued under false pretenses.

Judge Chetlain interrupted him to say it appeared to him that the case was still a matter for Justice Prindiville to settle. The case, he said, was still pending before the magistrate, who had agreed to hear it September 19. Mr. Saltiel thereupon launched into a lengthy discourse to show that the upper court had jurisdiction. Not a scintilla of evidence, he said, had been produced to show that the prisoners were guilty of "conspiring to kill the president," as charged in the complaint.

When Lawyer Geeting ceased speaking Dr. Taylor, for the city, arose and said the only question before the court was the adequate jurisdiction of the justice court—that is, the jurisdiction of Magistrate Prindiville. His argument was technical, tending to uphold the authority of the lower court and the legality of the official acts of Prindiville.

The habeas corpus case was postponed until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, no decision being given on any of the points raised.

MAY INDICATE A PLOT.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 13.—In a frame building on Broadway the Cleveland detectives have discovered evidence which, while not tending to prove the existence of an anarchist plot against President McKinley, will at least serve to hold one of the men who were arrested in Chicago.

As soon as information was received here of the arrest of Edward Wolcizynski, of this city, in Chicago, Sergeant Doran and Detective Schmunk were detailed to search the house in which he lived at No. 1870 Broadway. They found stored away on top of a cupboard fifty feet of fuse, such as is ordinarily used in the manufacture of dynamite bombs. The information was at once telegraphed to the Chicago authorities.

Wolcizynski while in the city was employed as a writer on a Polish newspaper known as the Star.

WAS AFTER NOTORIETY.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 13.—It was learned here today that Leon Czolgosz made a tour of the anthracite coal regions about six years ago. He was employed for awhile by the Lackawanna Coal company at Duryea, this county, and while there is said to have organized a lodge of anarchists. He could speak several languages and soon became popular with the foreign element. He was known as Fred Neiman. People who came in contact with Czolgosz then say he was after notoriety all the time and whenever the anarchists met he insisted on doing all the talking. His theory was that the condition of the working people in this country would never be improved until the doctrines advocated by the anarchists were put into practice.

MAY PREPARE A LAW.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Messrs. Botkin and Bynum, members of the commission to revise and codify the criminal and penal laws of the United States since the attack upon the life of the president, have been investigating the authorities with a view to the preparation of a law making an assault upon the president with intent to murder cognizable in the courts of the United States and punishable by death. They have prepared a draft of a bill to be submitted to congress making assault upon the president a felony and punishable by death, when the assault is for the purpose of obstructing the operations of government. It is believed that this qualification will have the effect of giving the federal courts jurisdiction in such cases.

THREATENS ROOSEVELT.

Berlin, N. H., Sept. 13.—Learning that a man who had left here this afternoon for New York had declared that he was on his way to Washington to kill Vice President Roosevelt, Chief of Police Youngeliss has telegraphed the chief of police of New York to look out for him. The man was a foreigner. He tried to buy a ticket to Washington, but could not do so, and bought one for New York.

Charles Neibergall, a druggist, who left this city over a year ago for Colorado, has returned and will remain here if he finds employment.

Dr. Watkins, on the Dayton twirling staff last season, is now assistant surgeon on the Northern Pacific railroad.

He was very weak and his heart was so feeble that they feared lest his life might go out at any time.

The little coterie below stairs watched the clock tick away the minutes and hours, perhaps the life of the president, without a word of encouragement until 4 o'clock, when the president rallied slightly. The saline solution which saved Mrs. McKinley's life in San Francisco had proved in a measure effective. It was given the president shortly after the sinking spell began.

MRS. M'KINLEY NOT TOLD.

During the whole dreadful night Mrs. McKinley knew nothing of the sudden change that had come. She slept peacefully in her room through it all.

At 5:30 Secretary Wilson came out looking haggard and dejected.

"The president has a fighting chance," said he. The tone of his words sounded like the expression of a forlorn hope.

No word came out of the Milburn residence for almost an hour after Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock had left. The bulletin usually issued at 6:30 was omitted. Dr. Rixey at 7:30 told the representatives of the Associated Press that he felt slightly encouraged.

"The president has rallied somewhat," said he, "but then you know," he added, "the president is usually better in the morning."

EXTRAS WERE ISSUED.

The Buffalo papers all had extras with the sad intelligence of the president's relapse on the streets at daylight. One paper announced that the president was dying. The result was that the whole city was thoroughly aroused and alarmed early, and before 7 o'clock crowds of people flocked in the direction of the Milburn house to learn if the latest news was not more reassuring. They stood at the ropes far down the intersecting streets and waited patiently for the appearance of the morning bulletin. Many of them refused to credit the news of the president's sudden change for the worse, until they had learned by word of mouth from the sentries of the president's dangerous and critical condition.

The first person to arrive for the morning consultation was Dr. Wasdin, who drove up in his buggy at 8:15. He passed quickly into the Milburn residence.

"I have been absent for a couple of hours," said he, "and I do not know the condition of the president. I hope he is better."

ABNER M'KINLEY THERE.

Two minutes later Abner McKinley walked down to the corner to tell his coachman, who had been waiting for him with a carriage for an hour, that he would not go to his hotel for breakfast. He then returned to the Milburn residence.

Dr. Mann came up in an automobile two minutes later. "I have nothing to say now," he said, in reply to a question as he passed into the roped enclosure to the house. The new detail for guard duty for today arrived from Fort Porter a few minutes later. The guard was changed and the sentries posted for the day. Lieut. Chas. N. Murphy was the new officer in charge.

Dr. Mynter arrived at 8:23. "I saw the president at 5 o'clock," said he. "His condition was then very grave."

After he entered the house Abner McKinley, Dr. Baer, the president's nephew by marriage, and Mr. Milburn came out of the house and stood in conversation on the lawn. Mr. McKinley was smoking a cigar. He received and read a telegram and then turned to his companions and showed it to them.

HURRIED AWAY.

While they were talking together Col. W. C. Brown, of New York, and Lieutenant McKinley came out of the house and after a hurried conference with Abner McKinley, they hastened to the corner, where an automobile was in waiting. "The president is a little better," said Colonel Brown, as he directed the chauffeur to go as rapidly as possible to the Lennox. This is the hotel at which Mrs. Abner McKinley and Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock are stopping.

At 8:40 William H. Hengerer, a Buffalo business man, who had called to see Mr. Milburn, said that Mr. Milburn had informed him that there had been some encouragement during the last half hour and it was believed that the president had a fighting chance.

Dr. Park did not reach the house until 8:35 o'clock, being the last of the physicians to arrive for the morning consultation.

A CRANK APPEARS.

At 8:50, while the consultation was going on inside, and old lady, who was plainly a crank, approached the inner rope and insisted upon being admitted. She said she desired to see Mrs. McKinley: "I have something important to say to her," she said. One of the secret service men kindly led her aside and listened to her long story of how she proposed to cure the president by means of her prayers.

A stream of callers began arriving early. Several of the foreigners connected with the exposition arrived to inquire about the president's condition. All callers were met at the door by Mr. Milburn, who informed them that the President had rallied fairly well. Major Symmons, of the army, one of the callers, said he had been informed that the president was a very, very sick man.

A BARE FIGHTING CHANCE.

"But the physicians say he has a bare fighting chance," said he.

Secretaries Hitchcock and Wilson, who left the house about 5 o'clock this morning, returned in an electric cab at 9:20. They stopped on the lawn to speak to Abner McKinley before entering the house.

At 9:30 the scene about the Milburn residence was one that will live in the memory of those who witnessed it as long as life lasts. Down the streets in every direction people were massed hundreds deep, while at the corner, where the headquarters of the press are located, correspondents of all the leading journals of the world were waiting ready to flash the first news far as the wires reach, while within the tents the busy telegraph instruments were clicking off the sad intelligence. In front of the residence the blue coated soldiers paced with arms at right shoulder. All were waiting, waiting, almost breathlessly, for the news.

The doctors finished their consultation at 9:40. They left the house together and stopped for a few minutes on the lawn to convey their verdict first to the president's brother. Chaplain Sykes, of the navy, in his black vestments, who had come to inquire after the president's health, lifted his hat as the men upon whom the president's life depends passed him.

DOCTORS LOOKED GRAVE.

The physicians looked serious as they walked away from the residence. Dr. Mann and Dr. Mynter came away together. "We are very anxious," said Dr. Mann, "very anxious," he repeated, as he entered the carriage in waiting.

"Have you given up hope?"

"By no means," replied the doctor.

"Is he better than when you saw him last?"

"He is better than he was in the early hours of the morning," he responded as he directed the coachman to drive away.

LITTLE ENCOURAGEMENT.

Dr. Mynter had little encouragement to offer.

"I am not absolutely without hope," said he. "The president has a fighting chance, but I would be more hopeful if the day were passed and he had gained a little strength. He has improved some since early this morning, but the improvement is very slight. The trouble lies with his heart. We are stimulating it and our treatment has been fairly successful."

Dr. Mynter admitted that saline solution and other means to stimulate the action of the heart were being administered.

"Do you still have hopes of saving of the president's life?" Dr. Mynter was asked.

NOT ABSOLUTELY HOPELESS.

"I will say in answer to your question," replied Dr. Mynter, hesitatingly, "that I do not consider the case absolutely hopeless. I should be more hopeful if the day were passed and it had shown some improvement in his condition."

Dr. Mynter's remarks left the inference that the crisis might be prolonged.

The bulletin which was issued was slightly reassuring and indicated that the crisis might be prolonged, stating definitely that the president's condition had somewhat improved during the past few hours and that there was better response to stimulation. But his pulse was up to 128 and the convictions grew that it was almost a forlorn hope.

It was learned that the physicians had decided it would not be well for Mrs. McKinley to enter the sick room today, both on account of her feeble health and the excitement it might cause the president.

So far as can be learned Mrs. McKinley had not been informed up to 10 o'clock of the grave condition in which her husband was.

RELATIVES ARRIVE.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the intimate friends and relatives of the president, who were telegraphed for early this morning, began to arrive, and soon after 10 o'clock there were assembled in the down stairs rooms of the Milburn house Senators Hanna and Fairbanks, ex-Secretary of State Day, Secretary Wilson and Secretary Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Baer, Abner McKinley, Miss Helen McKinley and Mrs. Duncan, sister of the president, and Mrs. Lafayette McWilliams, in addition to John G. Milburn, Former Postmaster General Bissell, John I. Scather, of Buffalo, and Representative Alexander, of the Buffalo district. The latter came from the house and said: "If the president successfully weathers the morning his chances of ultimate recovery will be greatly increased because his condition, other than his heart weakness, is very encouraging."

SENATOR HANNA THERE.

Senator Hanna came on a special train from Cleveland, making the run in the remarkable fast time of three hours. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hanna, Colonel Myron T. Herrick, Miss Barber and a few other friends of the president. He received the news at 4 o'clock this morning and immediately ordered a special train.

All the cabinet officers were telegraphed at 3 o'clock this morning and are now, presumably, on their way hither. Dr. W. W. Johnson, of Washington, who is at Portsmouth, N. H., and Dr. Janeway, of New York, both celebrated heart specialists, have been summoned.

A celebrated heart specialist, who has been watching the bulletins closely, has expressed the opinion that the extreme weakness of the heart is due to the shock of the first bullet, which struck the president's breast bone and now manifesting itself for the first time.

PRESIDENT CONSCIOUS.

The president is perfectly conscious despite his extreme weakness. This morning, when the nurses sought to adjust the pillows so as to shut out the light of the window, the president protested. "No, I want to see the trees," he murmured. "They are so beautiful."

The doctors believe he fully realizes how low he is, although he has not been informed. When Mrs. McKinley was told that it would be better for her not to see him this morning, she assented without protest, but she seemed to realize the full importance of the request, though she said nothing.

Secretary Hitchcock was heartbroken by the sudden dashing down of the high hopes he had held of the president's recovery, but loyally believes and will hope on to the end.

"I refuse to surrender," said he, with great emotion, at 10:30. "I will not give up hope while life remains. I shall hope on and pray on to the end."

A NOTE OF HOPE.

Congresman Alexander at 10:45 gave the most encouraging news of the morning. He said:

"It is not true that the physicians are without hope or that those gathered in the house are despondent. The lowering of the heart action is a natural result of the giving of a cathartic and was expected. It was found that the solid food given yesterday had not passed through the stomach and that a cathartic would have to be given. Then came the reaction. The physicians gave a saline solution, but in very small quantity, and this forenoon used some digitalis, but also in small quantities. They did not want to use any more artificial means than absolutely necessary. The results so far are being observed and the president is now sleeping, watched by Drs. Rixey, Park and Wasdin.

"Everybody about the house is hopeful. The two men who know him best, Secretary Cortelyou and Senator Hanna, are cheerful and as confident as the set-back will allow. They both know his strong will and they think that will help. Drs. Janeway and Johnson have been summoned to take care of the heart action. In other respects the president is doing well."

SAYS THERE IS HOPE.

Rev. Dr. Corwin Wilson, who was once pastor of the First Methodist church of Canton, where the president worshiped for many years, was among those who called at the house during the morning. When he left he said:

"Yes, there is hope for the president. His brother tells me he is making a supreme fight for life. I feel most deeply for the president, for at Canton in by-gone days I was his pastor and truly know his noble character."

Congressman Olmstead was in the Milburn house at 11:10 in company with C. W. Goodyear, of Buffalo. The latter said that the most encouraging phase of the situation was to be found in the hopeful demeanor of those closest to the president. Senator Hanna's confidence and Abner McKinley's sanguine hopes were good.

The senator is quoted as adding:

"The president most certainly has a fighting chance. I still believe he will pull through."

Secretary Cortelyou, has refrained from visiting the president's room, and, in fact, nobody but the doctors or the nurses have been in the apartment.

MORE ENCOURAGEMENT.

Ansley Wilcox, who entertained Vice President Roosevelt when he was here, came out of the Milburn house at 11:30 and said:

"So far as I can learn the physicians and those in the Milburn house are very hopeful. Since the early morning the president has improved slightly and even the slightest improvement is more than the physicians had expected."

Dr. Mann was asked this morning to make an authorized statement regarding the president's condition in addition to that contained in the bulletins. This he declined to do, but in response to inquiries he said:

"No, I cannot say anything about any crisis in the case. A patient may continue in the condition the president now is for some time and then pick up or not, just as the case may develop. The president is in a very serious condition, it is true, but it is absurd to say he is dying, as stated by some persons this morning. I cannot make any further statement about the case just now."

MAY BE DUE TO SHOCK.

The suggestion has been made to the physicians that the extremely weakened heart which threatens the president's life may be due to the shock received by him from the bullet which struck the breast bone and glanced off. Dr. McBurney, the well known New York surgeon, who participated in the case early in the week, has advanced this theory and it is possible the latter may be asked to come again to Buffalo for further consultation.

The question as to whether he should be asked to come here was left to the decision of Secretary Cortelyou.

GOVERNOR YATES CALLS.

Governor Yates, of Illinois, and Col. Russell B. Harrison, emerging from the mansion at 11:30, brought the same news, given by early callers, its purport being that the president is not only holding his own, but improving slightly.

Governor Yates held a conversation with Mr. Milburn and was advised that it might be well to postpone until later in the day any program that had been arranged for Illinois day at the exposition.

Mr. Milburn informed the governor that he would be advised later and that if the president continued to rest comfortable, as at present, there would seem to be no reason to entirely abandon the day's program.

Colonel Harrison said that he called at the house for the purpose of presenting to Mrs. McKinley the respects of the Harrison family.

WAS HOLDING HIS OWN.

"The president is holding his own. This is all I care to say publicly," the doctor said:

It is learned, however, that at 11 o'clock the attending physicians decided to stop the use of the saline injections as the patient had begun to revive from the extreme depression. It was deemed wise to withhold the saline solution for a possible future sinking spell. The quantity of digitalis was also diminished to ascertain if the president's heart could do without stimulants.

To a representative of the Associated Press Dr. Wasdin said: "I cannot reiterate it too often; the president is holding his own."

"Has he rallied perceptibly, doctor?" was asked.

"Yes, and no," replied the surgeon.

"What does that mean?"

"It simply means," was the answer, "that there are fluctuations. One moment the patient appears to revive, the next the depression returns."

HOPE NOT ABANDONED.

"The physicians have not abandoned hope, have they?" was asked.

"By no manner of means. Again I say there is certainly a fighting chance. At present the condition of the president is not hopeless, but within ten minutes the greatly to be feared moment might come."

"Is it true, doctor, that the saline injections have been stopped?"

"Hardly. Indeed we gave such an injection not long ago. The patient responded, and we are waiting to see if another will be necessary."

Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock followed Dr. Wasdin and went away in an automobile to the Buffalo club. The former said:

SENATOR HANNA HOPES.

Senator Hanna, who was in the house quite a long time, emerged at 12:25 p. m. He walked very slowly and appeared very grave.

"Is there any good news, Senator?" he was asked.

"Well, there is not any good news. I can only say that the president has a fighting chance. I am always hopeful. My faith is strong. I saw a rainbow in the sky as I came up here this morning. I hope it is prophetic."

Senator Fairbanks and Judge Day came out shortly after Senator Hanna departed. They would not discuss the case beyond saying the president was holding his own.

Fort Wayne wants interurban railroads and a way into the city will be found for all that try to come in.

This is, according to the superstitious, the kind of day for evil tidings and woeful things. It is Friday and the thirteenth day of the month.

The next modern naval commander who goes into action should fortify himself by having his lawyer on one side, his stenographer on the other and a photographer in the rear, so as to have all the evidence in indisputable form.

Lord Roberts has recommended over 5,000 officers and men of the British army for promotion and honors, in recognition of services in South Africa. It is to be hoped that the list includes the name of Baden-Powell. That gallant soldier, although he conducted the defence of Mafeking in a most brilliant manner is one of the few officers who have come out of the Boer war with credit, has been distinctly snubbed by his government. It is said that the Cecils do not like him.

Now it is reported in New York that a discovery has been made in Connecticut of the manufacture of milk by chemicals. When it comes to chemical-made milk it is time to draw the line. The babies are entitled to the natural product, pure and wholesome. Anyone trying to pass off bogus milk should be made to pay a sharp penalty.

The sultan has settled with one of the smaller French claimants, moved thereto perhaps by the expulsion from France of his spies. But M. Delcasse wants him to pay what he owes to all the claimants before considering a resumption of diplomatic relations. Abdul Hamid is in mortal fear of the young Turkey party which has its headquarters in Paris, and he is desperately anxious to regain the privilege of watching the movement through the Turkish secret service. This consideration may cause him to find money enough to satisfy the French claims and get on speaking terms again with President Loubet.

The meeting to be held next week under the auspices of the Commercial club to discuss the interurban franchise matter and other phases of interurban railways as they affect Fort Wayne ought to do some good. The city of Fort Wayne's class that is without these promoters of trade is behind the times and getting in the rear of the procession. If we are to have interurban roads, they must be allowed to come down town. The most satisfactory means to this end is a matter that the gentlemen of the Commercial club and others who may participate in the forthcoming meeting will find eminently worthy of discussion and solution.

THE NATION AGAIN ANXIOUS.

With scarcely less shock than was caused by news of the foul assault upon him the people of the nation learned this morning that the life of the president was trembling in the balance and the worst feared by his physicians and others close about him.

So sturdily had he come through the first dread crisis and so rapidly had he mended that the people of the country, more taking counsel of their hopes than of technical information, had come to regard the president's recovery from his wounds and his restoration to health and strength as a matter amply assured. Thus is it that the sorrowful information of this dread relapse comes doubly weighted with grief and anxiety.

The news late this afternoon from the president's bedside is of a more encouraging nature, though it is not sought by any one in authority over the patient to obscure the fact that President McKinley is desperately ill, with most of the chances against him.

The whole nation will pray that the same skill of physicians, the same strength of will and splendid courage of the president, and the same watchful and beneficent Providence which brought him through the earlier crisis of his prostration may all be with him through this and that he may soon be restored to his beloved wife, his devoted friends and his anxious country.

OBSERVE NEW YEAR TONIGHT

New Year, Called "Rosh Hashannah," Begins This Evening When the Sun Sets.

At sunset tonight the Jewish New Year, called Rosh Hashanah, begins. It is the year 5,662 according to Jewish and also Biblical reckoning, and commemorates the creation of the world. Hence it is called "Yom Hazzikkoron," or day of memorial, and is, as it were, the world's birthday, the anniversary of the virgin of the universe.

As such it suggests the sublimest thoughts of God's goodness and God's love. It reminds us that also that this is a moral universe and that its author and ruler is also its judge. Hence Rosh Hashanah is also called "Yom Hadin," which means "Day of Judgment." With the Jew judgment is not postponed until the end of all things, but on each new year he is specially reminded that there is an eye that has seen all and an ear that hears all, and that his actions are as if written in a book.

It is the custom in all Synagogues for the "shopper" or trumpet to be blown to arouse the worshippers to a realization of the full import of the day; also to impress them with the majesty of God as before earthly rulers and trumpet or bugle is sounded. For this reason Rosh Hashanah is also called "Yom Hatteruah," day of the blowing of the cornet.

Rosh Hashanah is the first of the so-called ten penetential days culminating with the great and solemn "Yom Kippur," or day of atonement, a day of fasting and of prayer for the foregiveness of sin. On this day the Jew not only prays for his own sins to be forgiven, but seeks to be worthy of the divine grace by forgiving also those who have in any way injured or offended him, the day thus deriving its beautiful name, "Day of Renunciation;" renunciation with self, with one's fellows and therefore also with God.

Though the most serious time in the religious life of the Jew, Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur are nevertheless a season of most solemn joy and gladness. The Jew girds himself again after the summer's rest and relaxation to take up once more the burden of life, and assume all the duties and responsibilities of an earnest, strenuous existence. It is most helpful and inspiring for these soul-searching and life-uplifting days to come just at the time when all the world is preparing to enter on the work and activity of winter. Rosh Hashanah is a festival of great joy among the Jews. It is a time of interchange of gifts and of happy family reunions. Cards and letters of greeting and congratulation are sent to friends and relatives far near, bearing the inscription, "Leshanah Tovu;" meaning "For a good year," or as we should say, "A Happy New Year."

IN THE JUSTICES' COURTS.

William Zellers was arrested this morning for assault and battery on George Irwin. Justice Huser will try the case this afternoon.

Several weeks ago Mrs. Jeff Toler filed an affidavit against her husband, charging him with desertion. Jeff kept out of reach of the officers, but was caught this morning and will have his trial in Huser's court this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The domestic troubles of the Tolers are like an open book.

Frank M. Monroe, of Springfield, is the lessee of a piece of property upon which he lives. The owner of the property died recently and the heirs, who live in Auburn, DeKalb county, have succeeded thereto. On the Springfield township tract is some timber which Charles McClellan, of Auburn, one of the heirs, sold to certain parties. The purchaser sent Isaac Burrick, Silas Morton, Nathan Culburt and David Johns, wood choppers, to the farm to cut off the timber. Monroe, the tenant and lessee, ordered them to desist, but they refused to obey the order. Monroe then came to this city and in Bullerman's court filed an affidavit charging the above named woodchoppers with trespass and with interfering with his rights as a tenant. The men were arrested and brought to the city, when they gave bond for their appearance in Bullerman's court.

Christian Witte, an east side saloon keeper, was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued in Tancey's court, charging him with violating the Nicholson law. By agreement the charge was modified to Sabbath desecration, to which the defendant entered a plea of guilty and paid a fine of $1 and costs.

THE NEWS OF THE POLICE

Judge Louttit having returned to the city again, presided at police court this morning. The only case was that of William Miller, arrested for vagrancy. He claims to have been working regularly, but it was shown that while he works some at odd jobs, he puts in most of his time begging around on the north side, and sleeps in barns and out buildings. He says he is sick, and the officers say he is demented. He was sent over for fifteen days.

Officer Poppert found a pocketbook yesterday evening containing a small amount of money and some receipts. The purse is supposed to belong to Mrs. Harry J. Miller.

The police were called to quell a family disturbance on Charles street last night. When the officers arrived the trouble was over and no arrests were made.

Mrs. W. F. Graeter complains that a stray dog, owned by nobody, yesterday bit her little boy. She wants the officers to shoot the dog.

KEY RETAINS HIS NERVE.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 13.—Sheriff Crandal returned last evening from Michigan City, to which place he took Banker Key, who is now an inmate of the penitentiary. Key has plenty of nerve. The sight of the prison walls had no terror for him, and he never once expressed a regret at what he had done. He was jovial and good-natured, even when donning his suit of stripes and checks. He talked a great deal en route to that place and several times expressed his confidence that he would gain his liberty after serving two years' time. He also hinted that when he was released from prison he would be worth at least $10,000, or that he would earn $10,000 in a very short time thereafter.

WAS STRICKEN SUDDENLY.

(Huntington Herald.)

Additional particulars regarding the death of Mrs. Sylvester Dinius, at Detroit, Monday evening, are that she was in her usual condition of health and had gone to Belle Isle with Fort Wayne friends to spend the day. They ate their dinner on the island and in a little while after the repast Mrs. Dinius remarked that she felt very queer in her head and body. She immediately became unconscious. Her husband was at Fort Wayne, but her son, Bert, was there and had her conveyed to a hospital, but she did not regain consciousness and died at 5 o'clock in the evening. The husband did not reach Detroit until after the death had occurred.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE NAMED

ON CITY AND INTERURBAN ELECTRIC LINES.

Fifteen Prominent Citizens Chosen to Aid in Adjusting Franchises and Getting New Lines.

In accordance with a resolution adopted by the Commercial club at its meeting Thursday evening President F. V. Culbertson today appointed a special committee of fifteen well-known, progressive-spirited citizens as a committee on city and interurban railroads. These have been selected:

Henry Beadell, chairman.
Charles McCulloch.
Charles S. Bash.
Samuel M. Foster.
William P. Breen.
John W. White.
Stephen B. Bond.
Louis Fox.
Robert B. Hanna.
Robert Millard.
Fred S. Hunting.
Charles A. Wilding.
A. J. Moynihan.
Alex. Mergentheim.
George R. Hench.

This committee will take up an important problem now before the people of Fort Wayne, and attempt to aid in reaching a basis on which the present street car system may be extended, and upon which every new electric line which may desire to come to Fort Wayne may be enabled to do so upon favorable terms. It will act upon a platform of progress. It is made up of representative men of high standing, and it is expected that acting jointly with the city authorities and the electric line promoters much good may be accomplished upon a basis which will be entirely fair to all interests.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mrs. Simpson, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Asterlin, has returned to her home at Bellevue, Ohio.

The Caledonian society enjoyed a social last evening at its hall, the opening session of the series of winter amusements annually given by this society.

Miss Nellie Fritz, who has been visiting her parents and other friends in the city, leaves this evening for Baltimore, Ohio, where she is conducting a millinery store.

The Wayne Biscuit company, whose cracker factory on Barr street has been in successful operation for several weeks, has sent an invitation to the members of the Commercial club to pay a visit of inspection to the institution, which is now employing about thirty-five people. The invitation will be accepted with thanks.

William Swank, of Decatur, arrived in the city last evening to enter St. Joseph hospital, where he is under the care of Dr. A. E. Bulson. Several days ago, while working about some machinery, a belt which flew from a pulley struck Mr. Swank in the right eye, tearing the lid and bursting the eyeball. The injury is a very severe one and it will be impossible to save the sight of the eye.

GETS ANOTHER PATENT.

Britton Poulson, of this city, has just received a patent upon a new windmill of his own invention, which experts claim the best now in existence. He hopes to organize a company in Fort Wayne to manufacture this new mill upon a large scale. Mr. Poulson is the inventor of quite a number of very successful machines, among which are a well-known road scraper and a washing machine, which attracted much attention.

CALLED A MEETING

TO DISCUSS INTERURBAN FRANCHISE MATTERS.

COMMERCIAL CLUB WANTS A FULL DISCUSSION.

NEW PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

CLUB TAKES HOLD OF WORK WITH A VIM.

Acting upon the suggestion of several of its members Thursday evening, the Fort Wayne Commercial club has taken up the consideration of the electric railroad franchise question in Fort Wayne, with the hope of aiding in solving a problem that all realize to be of vital interest to the city. The club hopes that some understanding may be reached whereby not only the present system may be extended, but that provisions may be made to offer desirable entrances to the city for all the interurban lines that may knock for admission.

To this end a special meeting has been called for next Thursday evening at the rooms of the Commercial club, and the program committee will arrange to have a number of prominent citizens selected to discuss the matter. In addition to this, the most general and free discussion is invited, not alone from club members, but from all who have an interest in the city's welfare. Assisting in the work of solving the perplexing problem, President Culbertson has been directed to appoint a committee of fifteen whose duty it shall be to give all possible aid to interurban lines desiring to enter Fort Wayne.

Among those who spoke upon the matter at the inaugural meeting of the Commercial club Thursday evening were P. A. Randall, S. M. Foster, N. D. Doughman, S. L. Nelson, Alexander Johnson, F. E. Purcell and R. B. Hanna, and all were anxious to lend encouragement to every line that may be projected into the city. Superintendent Nelson, of the Fort Wayne and Southwestern, announced that the laying of the rails on that line would be completed to the city limits today, and he invited the club officials and committees to make a trip over the line. The invitation was accepted and one of the new cars will be used, propelled by a locomotive.

THE INAUGURAL.

F. V. Culbertson, the new club president, assumed the chair at the opening of the club session Thursday evening, and after the approval of the minutes of the previous meeting delivered his inaugural address as follows:

"At the regular meeting of the directors of this club in July last I was selected as your presiding officer for the coming year. I desire to thank you for the honor paid me and to assure you that I appreciate the compliment. Had I been present at that meeting I should have strongly opposed my election, for to my mind there are many members of this organization more ably qualified to fill the office and much more entitled to the honor than myself. However, I desire to show my appreciation of what you have done by accepting the office, and shall endeavor by my deeds to emphasize that appreciation by conducting the affairs of the club as I best see and understand the same and in a manner which I trust shall meet your approval.

"It gives me great pleasure as your chosen leader to greet you at this the opening session of another year. I wish to congratulate the club on the interest manifested by its officers, committees and members since its organization; on the good management that has prevailed, on its splendid financial condition, and on its magnificent membership list. The membership, containing as it does representative men from nearly all if not every calling known to our city, is a testimonial to the interest manifested in this organization and in the general welfare of Fort Wayne. I trust these favored conditions may continue and that our membership may be gradually enlarged.

WHAT IT HAS DONE.

"The question is sometimes asked, 'What has the Commercial club done?' Without any attempt at details I should reply to this by saying if it never did more than to call the representative business men of the city together in friendly discussion and interchange of thought on matters pertaining to the club and the good of our town its organization has been well worth the effort. Perhaps some errors or mistakes have been made in the past. If so, then the Commercial club does not differ materially in this respect from other business societies. I think we have known of cases where municipal bodies and state legislatures have made blunders—indeed, congress itself does not seem to be free from this charge—therefore, this accusation should not discourage or disband us. Let us accept the charge, if any, of errors or mistakes filed against us, without seeking to lay the blame on others than ourselves, and profit by the lessons taught and the experiences gained as a guide to right in the future.

"At the outset many got the impression that the chief aim of this organization was to encourage, promote and locate manufacturing institutions. This line of effort is highly commendable where legitimately pursued on sound business principles and when so done shall always have my earnest support. At the same time I desire to remind you of the obligation we owe to the splendid industrial concerns already with us, managed and directed by our own citizens, our neighbors, to whose energy and fidelity magnificent results have been attained that have done so much to help build up Fort Wayne and broaden and strengthen its good name in the world of commerce. To these men and their concerns we owe a debt of gratitude; we owe them our protection; we owe them in every way our encouragement, and should never for a moment lose sight of them in our eagerness to locate new institutions.

NEW FACTORIES.

"Personally, I have always been opposed to the cash bonus plan of securing new manufacturing concerns, but any legitimate aid along the line of factory sites and the construction of buildings for worthy institutions in the hands of and directed by desirable people, or for proposed new concerns being promoted by those entitled to our confidence and aid, I shall earnestly approve and support.

"It seems to me, when I look over the advantages possessed by our city for manufacturing or wholesale concerns, that those earnestly seeking new and desirable locations would be disposed to decide readily in our favor after making proper investigation.

"With shipping facilities beyond dispute—in fact, surpassing any other inland city of similar population in the middle west, so far as known to me—skilled labor of the highest type, of which a remarkable percentage own their own homes, which always insures a better citizenship, freeness from strikes and labor turmoils of all kinds; fuel as cheap as in any city similarly located; the best of banking facilities; financial institutions to aid and encourage the home builder; a magnificent city to reside in, clean, healthy and with a low death rate, it does seem to me we have every inducement to offer worthy of the intelligent and right thinking.

OTHER TOPICS COME UP.

"Aside from the industrial question, there are constantly topics and movements pertaining to the welfare and upbuilding of our city that must be discussed and settled. Nowhere can this be done better, if undertaken in the right spirit, than on the floors of the Commercial club. For all such topics or movements of whatever kind or nature that justly fall within the range of this civic society I bespeak a fair and candid hearing and a wise and business-like solution. Whether it be municipal improvement, franchises or what not, let the subject in hand be approached with a spirit of fairness and sensible reasoning, with an earnest desire to deal justly with both sides. Acrimonious language and personal animosities must be laid down if we desire to serve aright and be served likewise.

"If a town is what its people make it, then it is just as fair to presume that we, the people, are to be judged by hat our town is. Let us see to it that we are judged rightly, by seizing the opportunities that come to us, and by making the most of them along the lines have suggested.

"As for we of the Fort Wayne Commercial club, let us so conduct our deliberations and our business as to receive the favor of public sentiment, so necessary to success in all important undertaking. Just in proportion as we learn to sacrifice personal gain and individual preferences for the good of the whole people, in that proportion do I believe will our efforts be fruitful. To this end I solicit your co-operation and support and pledge you my best effort to the last."

STANDING COMMITTEESS.

President Culbertson was warmly applauded. The appointment of standing committees for the year was then made as follows:

Committee on Assemblages—Alex. Johnson, chairman; C. E. Graves, S. B. Fleming, F. E. Purcell, P. L. Zorbaugh.

OTHER MATTERS UP.

The proposition of Dr. W. H. Tolman, of New York, to deliver a free lecture at the Commercial club rooms on the evening of October 19, in the interest of the Industrial Betterment league, was accepted.

The Adam Schaaf Piano company, of Chicago, is anxious to secure a new location and the club will endeavor to enlist their interest in Fort Wayne. It is an old established concern, employing about 150 men. A. S. Bond, of the Packard company, was liberally applauded when he stated to in answer to the question of Col. D. N. Foster that the Packard company would have no objection to the location of the Schaaf company in Fort Wayne, and that it would be a splendid industry for the city.

T. F. Thieme was directed to take steps toward securing the location of a concern for the manufacture of an automatic piano playing device in this city. A number of other factory propositions were referred to the committee on manufactures.

President Culbertson reported that reduced railroad rates had been secured for the reunion of the Eighty-eighth Indiana regiment in this city next month, and that in response to the request of citizens of the towns west of this city he had been endeavoring to have the Pennsylvania company resume the old Plymouth accommodation train, which was popular for so many years. Superintendent McKim has the matter under consideration.

No Money Down!

Credit to Everybody.

We are the leading credit clothiers of America—we lead all competition in Quality, Style Methods and Prices.

Whether anything new and worthy comes out in the credit business, depend upon it—it comes from us.

And now we have taken a step forward—we have gained the confidence of the people, and the people have gained our confidence.

We can afford to be liberal—because we know our liberality is appreciated. Hereafter we shall advertise "NO MONEY DOWN." That means that you, your friends and neighbors can come to this progressive credit store and choose anything you desire without one cent on deposit. The weekly payments we ask you to pay afterward will never be missed.

WANT STREET CAR SERVICE

SOUTH BROADWAY RESIDENTS IN EARNEST.

Held an Enthusiastic Meeting Thursday Evening and Have a Petition in Circulation.

Residents of South Wayne, in the vicinity of South Broadway, are determined in their efforts to secure street car service for that section of the city, and went on record Thursday evening in decided terms.

The meeting was called for an open-air gathering at Broadway and Park avenue, but the weather proved so cool that an adjournment was taken to Clapesattle & Felts' drug store, where the situation was thoroughly discussed. It was the unanimous decision that any fair proposition ought to be accepted that would give the people a line along South Broadway.

A petition to the traction company and to the city authorities was prepared and fifty-three signatures were affixed at the meeing. The document was then placed in the hands of a circulating committee composed of Messrs. W. S. Wells, A. L. Randall, H. C. Stevens, Herman Lipes, Julius Remus and William Lawson, and it is predicted that practically every resident of that section of the city will sign the request for extension of the service along South Broadway.

Mothers, be sure and use Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. may8eod&w

CLASS FROM HOPE HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL.

Exercises Will Probably Occur October 3—Now at Work Upon the Program.

Within a few weeks a class of eleven splendidly trained nurses who have completed the course in the training school at Hope hospital, will be graduated with honors, receiving the diploma and badge which attests their competency. Thursday, October 3, has been selected as the date for holding the exercises, which will probably be held at Masonic Temple.

The class as constituted is made up of Miss Ella Jones, Miss Parker, Miss Weaver, Miss Barnhart, Miss Collins, Miss Maude Jones, Miss Cameron, Miss Dustman, Miss Rehorst, Miss Shoemaker and Miss McCully. The program for the commencement exercises is now in course of preparation, but is not completed. It is probable that H. C. Paul will present the badges and administer the obligation to the nurses, while President S. M. Foster will confer the diplomas. There will also be an address by a prominent physician, as well as another by a layman. The Haydn quartet, Mrs. S. C. Moffat and others will be invited to contribute to the musical program.

TO REORGANIZE BANK.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Wm. N. Cromwell, attorney; E. K. Stello, Edwin Gould, W. H. Taylor, R. W. Jones, jr., R. Thomas and Horace Raynor, receiver, representing the reorganization committee of the failed Seventh National bank of New York, had a two hours' conference today with Mr. Kane, the deputy comptroller of the currency. The plan of reorganization, which was submitted in writing, will be passed upon by Comptroller Dawes upon his return from Buffalo. The plan involves paying off all of the indebtedness of the bank and resuming business with a capital of $1,700,000, which, it is said, has all been subscribed and paid in. It also involves a new board of directors and an entirely new staff of executive officers.

INTERCEPTING SEWER NOTICE.

TO THE PUBLIC.

In order to avoid the payment of penalties and to give people interested time to apply for bonds if desired, I want to state that the intercepting sewer, which was built to connect all sewers of the city and carry all house drainage to a point about one-half mile east of the eastern limits, has been finished, the estimates made by the board and all property except that in Bloomingdale and Lakeside has been assessed, and the assessments are payable to the contractor at the office of the Citizens' Trust Company, corner of Berry and Clinton streets, on or before September 14, and all applications for bonds must be made at my office before September 14. Bonds will entitle applicants to pay in ten annual installments at 5 per cent. interest.

Office open all day and evenings from 6:30 to 9.

SPECIAL SALES

Seems to be a fad these days among furniture stores, and it is odd to note the different ways concerns regard statements they make in print. No amount of exaggeration is too great for some of our modest (?) competitors, and in telling, they run to large type as though the boldness of the printer's ink would blot out your doubt of their honesty.

WITH US advertising is a sort of a letter to you. WE SIGN OUR NAME TO IT—that, to us, means a pledge that our "PRINTED ANNOUNCEMENTS" are as true as the written kind that have a notary's seal.

As we have always been the leaders in our line, we propose to give our friends and patrons the benefit of the greatest cut in really fine up-to-date furniture that has ever been offered in this city.

COMMENCING FRIDAY, SEPT., 13th And Continuing for 10 Days

We will offer every piece of furniture in our large store at Greatly Reduced Prices. Come in and see the goods and get prices. If the goods are not high-grade and the prices away down, don't buy. Nothing reserved.

PAPE FURNITURE STORE,

The Rurode Dry Goods Co.

The Standard of this Great Store

IS HIGHER THAN EVER.

We are ready for the biggest fall business we ever knew. No requirement has been overlooked. No good quality has been slighted.

Our Styles are the Newest.
Our Shades the Most Desirable.
Our Qualities the Best.
Our Prices Absolutely Right.

Attractive Styles in Waists

Our showing of Silk and Flannel Waists will be found very attractive. Many new designs in pretty colorings, daintily made and effectively trimmed, await your choosing. Something you will like is sure to be here, and the prices are tempting.

Blankets and Comforts.

It is a good plan to buy these necessary articles before you need them, especially if there is money-saving in doing so. There is a chance here to save money. Nowhere can you buy such goods as we offer at such low prices.

Underwear.

For men, women and children. Everything needed in unlimited variety, from the smallest to the largest sizes. Every line complete. You have been long accustomed to look to us for your underwear needs. We can serve you better now than ever before.

HOPE HAD BEEN REVIVED AFRESH

CLOSE FRIENDS AT THE HOUSE.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13.—8:51 p. m.—President McKinley is dead. Late this afternoon he had another sinking spell, from which he could not be rallied and died at 8:50.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13.—The sinking spell in which the president died came this afternoon shortly after the physicians' bulletin had given fresh hope.

BURST INTO TEARS.

Shortly after 5:15 Secretary Root came from the Milburn house and as he spoke to the newspaper men he burst into tears. A few minutes later Colonel Brown, a close friend of of the president, came out, and in a broken tone announced: "The president is very, very bad," and then he, too, cried.

Dr. Stockton next appeared. It was then learned that the heart had begun to fail again and that as the last resort oxygen was being tried.

DESPERATE CONDITION.

At 5:45 the official bulletin was given out. It was dated 5:15, and it showed by the respiration the desperate condition of the patient. The respiration was 40 and it told that the oxygen treatment was not having any effect upon the weak heart.

By 6 o'clock carriages containing relatives and personal friends were driven up to the house. Senator Hanna, Captain and Mrs. McWilliams, and Mrs. Herrick were among those who arrived.

PRESIDENT THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

The Death of William McKinley Makes Him by Virtue of the Constitution President of the United States.

At 4:40 Secretary Cortelyou came across the street to the press tents and gave out the following bulletin:

"Official Bulletin—4 p. m.—The president's physicians report that he is only slightly improved since the last bulletin. The pulse and temperature remain the same as at that hour."

The secretary, in response to questions, merely said:

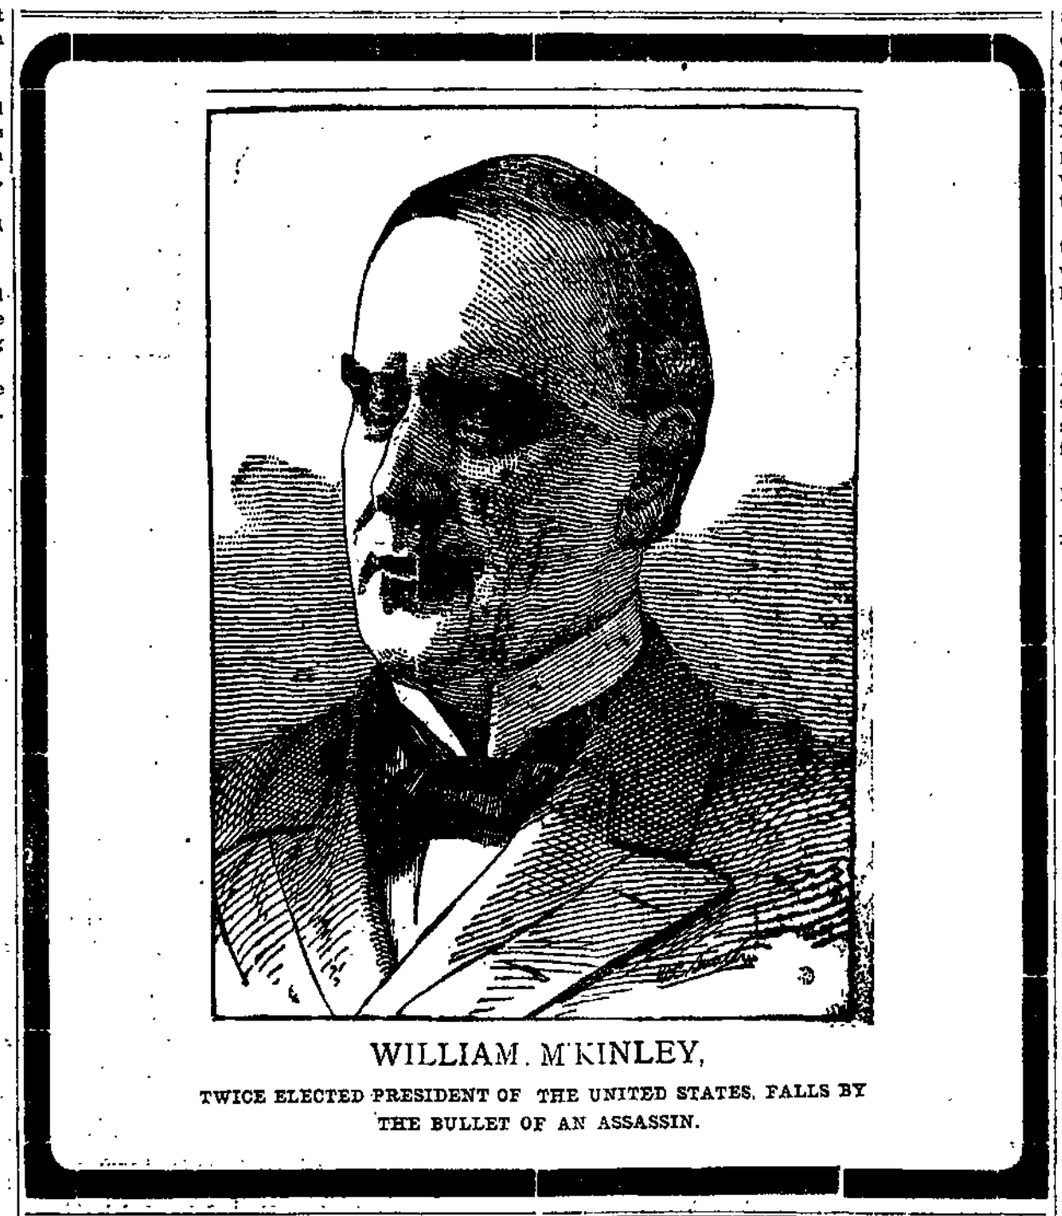
"He is very, very weak."

PHYSICIANS HASTILY SUMMONED.

At 5:58 the president's physicians were hastily summoned to the patient's bedside. The president had had another sinking spell and those about him seem to realize that the end could not be far off.

At 5:48 so critical had the president's condition become that the members of his family and those intimate personal friends who have been closest to him in social and official life were summoned to the Milburn residence.

At 6:30 it was announced that the president did not respond to the oxygen that was being administered and his physicians announced that unless he shortly did respond to the treatment his death could be a matter of but brief time. At the same hour Secretary Cortelyou issued the following statement:



WILLIAM M'KINLEY,

TWICE ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, FALLS BY THE BULLET OF AN ASSASSIN.

"The president's physicians report that his condition is most serious in spite of vigorous stimulation. The depression continues and is profound. Unless it can be relieved the end is only a question of time.

"George B. Cortelyou,

"Secretary to the President."

HOPE STRUGGLED AGAINST FEAR THROUGHOUT THE DREARY DAY

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13.—The dread end which came this evening had been feared since last evening, when the acute turn for the worse took place.

President McKinley began to sink shortly after 2 o'clock this morning after a critical period of twelve hours, in which alarm and hope mingled in the emotions of those who surrounded him. The trouble began on the preceding afternoon through the failure of the digestive organs to perform their functions.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the physicians and nurses detected a weakening of the heart action. The pulse fluttered and weakened and the president sank toward collapse. The end appeared to be at hand. Restoratives were speedily applied and the physicians fought the battle with the reserve force of science.

Action was immediate and decisive. Digitalis and strychnine were administers and as a last resort a saline solution was injected into the veins. A general alarm went speeding to the consulting physicians and trained nurses as fast as messengers, the telegraph and telephone could it. The restoratives did not at once prove effective and it was realized that the president was in an extremely critical condition. That realization with the shadow of death beside it led to another call, and that a summons to the cabinet, relatives and close personal friends of the president. The messengers who returned with the doctors and nurses were hurried off after those within reach, and to those who were absent from the city telegrams conveying the painful tidings were quickly transmitted by telegraph.

THE FIRST ILL NEWS.

A messenger who darted into the rain and was whicked away in an electric cab gave the outside watchers the first intimation of the ill news from within. At the same moment new lights were burning within the windows of the Milburn residence. Soon the word was passed out that the president had partially collapsed and was critically ill. It was a confession hardly needed, for the fact had been established by action that needed no words.

The newspaper correspondents who had already sent warnings of a serious change in the president's condition rushed to the improvised telegraph offices with the first bulletin. An automobile racing at top speed brought Dr. Mynter.

Dr. Mann came almost on his heels. After them came Abner McKinley, pale and agitated.

LITTLE ENCOURAGEMENT.

The physicians after their consultation and the examination of the patient could offer little encouragement.

He was very weak and his heart was so feeble that they feared lest his life might go out at any time.

The little coterie below stairs watched the clock tick away the minutes and hours, perhaps the life of the president, without a word of encouragement until 4 o'clock, when the president rallied slightly. The saline solution which saved Mrs. McKinley's life in San Francisco had proved in a measure effective. It was given the president shortly after the sinking spell began.

Drs. Mann and Mynter left for their homes. Their only reassuring word was that they had not given up hope.

MRS. M'KINLEY NOT TOLD.

During the whole dreadful night Mrs. McKinley knew nothing of the sudden change that had come. She slept peacefully in her room through it all.

At 5:30 Secretary Wilson came out looking haggard and dejected.

"The president has a fighting chance," said he. The tone of his words sounded like the expression of a forlorn hope.

No word came out of the Milburn residence for almost an hour after Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock had left. The bulletin usually issued at 6:30 was omitted. Dr. Rixey at 7:30 told the representatives of the Associated Press that he felt slightly encouraged.

"The president has rallied somewhat," said he, "but then you know," he added, "the president is usually better in the morning."

EXTRAS WERE ISSUED.

The Buffalo papers all had extras with the sad intelligence of the president's relapse on the streets at daylight. One paper announced that the president was dying. The result was that the whole city was thoroughly aroused and alarmed early, and before 7 o'clock crowds of people flocked in the direction of the Milburn house to learn if the latest news was not more reassuring. They stood at the ropes far down the intersecting streets and waited patiently for the appearance of the morning bulletin. Many of them refused to credit the news of the president's sudden change for the worse, until they had learned by word of mouth from the sentries of the president's

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13.—8:51 p. m.—President McKinley is dead. Late this afternoon he had another sinking spell, from which he could not be rallied and died at 8:50.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13.—The sinking spell in which the president died came this afternoon shortly after the physicians' bulletin had given fresh hope.

BURST INTO TEARS.

Shortly after 5:15 Secretary Root came from the Milburn house and as he spoke to the newspaper men he burst into tears. A few minutes later Colonel Brown, a close friend of of the president, came out, and in a broken tone announced: "The president is very, very bad," and then he, too, cried.

Dr. Stockton next appeared. It was then learned that the heart had begun to fail again and that as the last resort oxygen was being tried.

DESPERATE CONDITION.

At 5:45 the official bulletin was given out. It was dated 5:15, and it showed by the respiration the desperate condition of the patient. The respiration was 40 and it told that the oxygen treatment was not having any effect upon the weak heart.

By 6 o'clock carriages containing relatives and personal friends were driven up to the house. Senator Hanna, Captain and Mrs. McWilliams, and Mrs. Herrick were among those who arrived.

At 4:40 Secretary Cortelyou came across the street to the press tents and gave out the following bulletin:

"Official Bulletin—4 p. m.—The president's physicians report that he is only slightly improved since the last bulletin. The pulse and temperature remain the same as at that hour."

The secretary, in response to questions, merely said:

The President Has a Chance for Life, But His Condition is Critical---If He Lives Through the Crisis Expected Tonight He May Get Well.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.---Official bulletin.---The following bulletin was issued by the president's physicians at 2:30 p. m.:

"The president has more than held his own since morning and his condition justifies the expectation of further improvement. He is better than yesterday at this time.

"Pulse, 123; temperature, 99.4.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.---The following bulletin was issued by the president's physicians at 9 o'clock a. m.:

"The president's condition has somewhat improved during the past few hours. There is a better response to stimulation. He is conscious and free from pain. Pulse, 128; temperature, 99.8.

"P. M. Rixey.

"Charles G. Stockton.

"George B. Cortelyou, Secretary to the President."

Milburn House, Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13.—There is a chance for President McKinley's life, though it hangs in the balance.

The physicians believe that if the president passes through the night safely there will be reason for strong hope of his recovery.

His family, the two members of the cabinet who remained here, Senator Hanna, Colonel Herrick and others who arrived by special trains this morning are in the drawing room of the Milburn house watching the passing of the fateful moments that may be the last of the man they all love so well and whom the nation has honored in the highest degree. All realize that only a slender hope remains, and all dread a sudden attack of heart failure, which might bring death. Of all the sad household only the wife does not know the truth. She surmises that Mr. McKinley is worse, for she was told this morning it would be better for her not to enter the sick chamber. She assented, but it was with a look of mute appeal in her eyes.

PRESIDENT REALIZES IT.

The president himself seems to realize that his life hangs by a thread, although he has not yet been told how slim the chances are. This morning he looked out of the window. When the nurse sought to adjust the pillow to keep out the light he murmured a feeble protest: "It is so beautiful," said he; "the trees are so beautiful, I want to see them."

The doctors, it is needless to say, are doing all that medical science and skill can do to save the president to his country.

Dr. W. W. Johnson, of Washington, and Dr. Janeway, of New York, two of the most eminent heart specialists in the United States, have been summoned to lend their skill and counsel, and Dr. McBurney, the noted surgeon, who left yesterday, has been recalled. He advanced the theory before he left that the accelerated pulse might be due to the after-effects of the shock of the first bullet against the breast bone now manifesting itself for the first time.

The present condition, generally speaking, is fairly satisfactory, and after this crisis is passed there is hope of his recovery. If the heart action be controlled and strengthened the crisis now existing would pass.

PREPARING FOR THE WORST.

But everything is being prepared for the worst.

Vice President Roosevelt and the absent members of the cabinet have been telegraphed for and are speeding here as fast as steam and steel can bring them.

When the sinking spell occurred about 2 o'clock this morning it was feared Mr. McKinley might expire at any moment, as he did not respond to ordinary stimulants. It was only when recourse was had to the desperate resource of injecting saline solution, which saved Mrs. McKinley's life in San Francisco, into his veins that the circulation grew stronger and after an hour he rallied somewhat. His pulse at one time was almost 140. But the rally came and returning hope with it. With the fresh energies of daylight the president appeared perceptibly stronger and the physicians announced in their 8 o'clock bulletin that his condition was improved.

The pulse had fallen several points from the highest and they affirmed the existence of hope.

Dr. Mann declared most emphatically that it was absurd to say the president was dying.

The lowering of the pulse to 123 noted in the bulletin was considered the most encouraging feature of the 2:30 p. m. bulletin, but the statement that he was better than at the same hour yesterday necessitated explanation in view of the extremely serious and dangerous condition which it is now admitted the president is in.

BULLETIN EXPLAINED.

The explanation given was that the accumulation of undigested food in the stomach had at that time become as rank as ptomaine and that a bolus of calomel and oil had to be given. It was exceedingly drastic. When the relief came exhaustion followed.

Dr. Mynter was the first physician to leave the afternoon conference, and he seemed more hopeful than earlier in the day. To the newspaper men he said:

"The president is somewhat improved and the prospect is now more hopeful. He is taking some nourishment, including clam broth. There is no danger that he will starve to death. Six days is not long, and now very little food does him. I feel better about the case."

"The main trouble is that heart, is it not?"

WOULD SAY NOTHING.

"What would you say was the exact trouble with the heart?"

"If anybody should ask you," replied the doctor, "tell them I would say nothing."

"Is there any organic trouble with the heart?"

"None that we could discover."

"Is there any idea that the bullet was poisoned?"

"Absolutely none."

Dr. Locke, pastor of one of the Methodist churches in the city, called at 3:30 p. m., but it was purely a voluntary call. He was not summoned.

A FURTHER EXPLANATION.

Secretary Cortelyou walked over to the press headquarters shortly after the bulletin dated 2:30 p. m. was issued and explained that the sentence in the bulletin, "He is better than yesterday at this time," should be stricken out.

When the physicians were preparing the bulletin, he said, they had in mind the president's condition yesterday up to midnight. It will be remembered that it was just before that time when the first very alarming intimations began to come from the sick room about the impossibility of securing from the president's stomach the undigested food, which not only threatened to contaminate the system, but which caused him exceedingly great discomfort. Resort had been had to a drastic bolus of calomel and oil.

Just at midnight this radical remedy had its effect and the movement of the bowels came, bringing with it an immediate lowering of pulse and great relief.

BEGIN TO SINK.

President McKinley began to sink shortly after 2 o'clock this morning after a critical period of twelve hours, in which alarm and hope mingled in the emotions of those who surrounded him. The trouble began on the preceding afternoon through the failure of the digestive organs to perform their functions.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the physicians and nurses detected a weakening of the heart action. The pulse fluttered and weakened and the president sank toward collapse. The end appeared to be at hand. Restoratives were speedily applied and the physicians fought the battle with the reserve force of science.

HEROIC MEASURES.

Action was immediate and decisive. Digitalis and strychnine were administers and as a last resort a saline solution was injected into the veins. A general alarm went speeding to the consulting physicians and trained nurses as fast as messengers, the telegraph and telephone could it. The restoratives did not at once prove effective and it was realized that the president was in an extremely critical condition. That realization with the shadow of death beside it led to another call, and that a summons to the cabinet, relatives and close personal friends of the president. The messengers who returned with the doctors and nurses were hurried off after those within reach, and to those who were absent from the city telegrams conveying the painful tidings were quickly transmitted by telegraph.

FROM MINNESOTA

GENERAL SICKLES WITHDREW FROM THE RACE.

A CLOUD OVER CONVENTION

NEWS FROM PRESIDENT GIVES GREAT ANXIETY.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 13.—Judge Eli Torrance, of Minneapolis, was unanimously elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at today's session of the annual convention.

Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, of New York, withdrew from the fight, leaving the field to Stewart and Torrance. The western man had been quietly gaining in strength on his own personality since the opening of the encampment. The withdrawal of Sickles also threw a heavy vote to Torrance, so that when the balloting commenced the latter had a walkaway.

The balloting stood 230 to 476 in favor of Torrance when Comrade Wagner, who had the Stewart interests in hand, moved to make Torrance's election unanimous. The election of officers was the only business before the convention today, all other business, including the report of the pension committee, having been referred to the council of administration.

GLOOM IN CONVENTION.

The unfavorable news regarding the condition of the president cast a decided gloom over the convention. There was a manifest disinclination to transact any business while the death of the chief executive seemed imminent. Consequently, the election of officers was rushed and the thirty-fifth annual convention of the G. A. R. abruptly terminated.

The naming of the place for holding the next encampment was referred to the administration council, which meets late this afternoon.

Mrs. Calista R. Jones, of Bradenor, Mont., was today unanimously elected national commander of the Woman's Relief corps auxiliary of the G. A. R.

A RUMOR OF SETTLEMENT

Shaffer to Visit New York to Consider New Proposition for Bringing Peace.

New York, Sept. 13—It was learned today from a reliable quarter that proposals for a settlement of the steel strike are again under consideration in this city. It was also stated that President Shaffer is expected here today or tomorrow, but his coming is not the result of any communication from this city.

SHAFFER OUT OF SIGHT.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 13.—President Shaffer was again absent from his office today and rumors were current that a settlement of the strike had been made. From an official source it was learned that negotiations were in progress, but that nothing definite had been accomplished as yet.

One report had it that a settlement had been effected with the American Tin Plate officials and that conferences would now be held with the officials of the steel sheet and steel hoop companies. A notice posted at the Star plant of the tin plate company today that nothing has or can occur in the future to affect the operation of the plant on a strictly non-union basis, is regarded as a denial of the above.

The Amalgamated Journal in today's issue gives the result of the Civic Federation conference in New York. The members recommended the acceptance of the final terms of the combine, but the Journal says President Shaffer was unable to get the executive committee together before the expiration of the time limit.

The Amalgamated board then decided to make another effort to get negotiations started, and President Shaffer at once proceeded to ascertain what could be accomplished.

During the morning two carriages of non-union men were captured by Monongahela tin plate strikers and the men chased into the city. Two hundred Hungarians eluded the McKeesport strikers and entered the tube works.

WILL WED AT CLEVELAND.

Invitations have been received in the city for the marriage of Miss Flora Marie Koch, of Cleveland, and William C. Slater, of this city, which will be solemnized at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. M. C. Mill, in Cleveland, next Wednesday, Sept. 18. Mr. Slater is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Slater of this city, and is a very popular young man, holding the responsible position of stenographer to Mr. Strawbridge, of the Bass works. His father, Joseph Slater, is foreman of the blacksmith department of the works, and among the guests at the wedding will be Mr. and Mrs. Slater, of this city, and Dr. and Mrs. George Slater, of Chicago. The newly wedded couple will be at home at 19 Bass street, this city, after October 10, and they will be warmly congratulated by a wide circle of friends.

TAKES HOWISON'S PLACE ON SCHLEY COURT.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Admiral Ramsay, at one time chief of the bureau of navigation, has been selected as Howison's successor on the Schley court.

Admiral Dewey informed Admiral Schley by telephone today that the court of inquiry will resume its sessions at 11 o'clock on Monday morning next.

CONCERN IN PARIS.

Paris, Sept. 13.—The grave condition of President McKinley has aroused the keenest anxiety in all circles. The correspondent of the Associated Press communicated the news of the president's relapse to Ambassador Porter and Consul General Gowdy, who had no official advices on the subject. They were both deeply concerned and surprised, in view of the recent favorable bulletins. The latest dispatches announcing that the president showed signs of improvement have slightly relieved the tension. Further news is awaited with eagerness.

LOCAL LINES.

Barney Novitskey, the shoe dealer, had a magnificent sign mounted over his door, on Calhoun street, yesterday.

J. Alringer, of 197 Ewing street, has accepted a position as bookkeeper for the Hoosier Glove and Mitten company.

George Wallace, Henry Strass and Jacob Garber, prominent business men of Columbia City, are in Fort Wayne today on business.

Miss Nellie Morgan, daughter of Conductor and Mrs. Joseph Morgan, has returned from Laporte, Ind., where she was the guest of Mrs. R. Kirkup a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Willson and two children, who have been visiting relatives in Grand Rapids, will arrive here tomorrow and be Mr. Willson's parents' guests a few days, and then go to Buffalo. Mr. and Mrs. Willson reside in Grand Forks, N. D.

J. W. Hall has been granted a permit to erect a house on Ferguson street to cost $1,200; L. F. Curdes, house on Taber street, at a cost of $2,200, and another on Maple avenue at a cost of $3,000; W. J. Randall, house in Lakeside Park addition, to cost $1,400.

A very enjoyable social event was that Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Krone, at Cass and Fourth streets, in honor of Mr. Krone's birthday anniversary. Progressive pedro was among the amusements, first prizes being won by Mrs. J. Gusching and T. Koch, while the consolations were awarded to Mrs. D. Beaker and W. Krone.

CHICAGO REDS IN DANGER OF HARM

HABEAS CORPUS ACTION HEARD.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Hearing on the writ of habeas corpus issued Wednesday for the release of the anarchists under arrest here began before Judge Chetlain in the criminal court at 11:40 a. m. today.

Because of numerous determined threats of lynching the prisoners, made by angry citizens on the streets this morning, Judge Chetlain decided to hear the habeas corpus cases of the anarchists in the criminal court building instead of in the county building. The county building is in the down town district, where bulletins, telling of the president's condition, are liberally posted.

The anarchists are locked up in the jail just to the rear of the criminal court building, the two being connected by a covered court way. It is five blocks from the jail to the county building, where Judge Chetlain ordinarily sits. Sheriff Magerstadt moved among the excited crowds during the morning and heard threats of lynching freely made. Fearing that an attack might be made in bringing the prisoners down town, he went to the judge and requested him to make the change. He told Judge Chetlain that the crowds were angry and that every bulletin from the president's bedside made them more threatening. Judge Chetlain readily consented to the change.

"The anger of the crowd is justifiable," said Chief of Police O'Neill. "I feel with them, but there will be no lynching in Chicago. It is impossible. The sheriff's precautions are wise. It has been a long time since I have seen a Chicago crowd as angry as this one."

PRISONERS BROUGHT IN.

Judge Chetlain arrived at 11:30 a. m. and a few minutes later the nine prisoners charged with conspiracy to kill the president were led in and given seats behind a row of bailiffs. Sheriff Magerstadt was present in person. Throughout the room were deputy sheriffs and detectives in plain clothes, the sheriff having determined to take every possible precaution against trouble.

The writ of habeas corpus having been complied with by the production of the nine prisoners in court, counsel then made returns in behalf of the sheriff, the chief of police and Justice Prindiville, who, according to the petition, held the prisoners under restraint illegally. The prisoners brought into court were: Abraham Isaak, Abraham Isaak, jr., Clemens Pfeutner, Hippolyte Havel, Henry Travaglio, Michael Roz, Martin Roznick and Morris J. Fox. Emma Goldman was not present, but Justice Prindiville had promised to follow whatever decision was made by Judge Chetlain.

ATTORNEY WAS EXCITED.

Leopold Saltiel, representing the prisoners, opened the argument asking for the release of his clients on the grounds that they were being held without a shadow of legal reason. Attorney Saltiel claimed, in an excited voice, that all the papers in the case were insufficient and were issued under false pretenses.

Judge Chetlain interrupted him to say it appeared to him that the case was still a matter for Justice Prindiville to settle. The case, he said, was still pending before the magistrate, who had agreed to hear it September 19. Mr. Saltiel thereupon launched into a lengthy discourse to show that the upper court had jurisdiction. Not a scintilla of evidence, he said, had been produced to show that the prisoners were guilty of "conspiring to kill the president," as charged in the complaint.

When Lawyer Geeting ceased speaking Dr. Taylor, for the city, arose and said the only question before the court was the adequate jurisdiction of the justice court—that is, the jurisdiction of Magistrate Prindiville. His argument was technical, tending to uphold the authority of the lower court and the legality of the official acts of Prindiville.

The habeas corpus case was postponed until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, no decision being given on any of the points raised.

MAY INDICATE A PLOT.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 13.—In a frame building on Broadway the Cleveland detectives have discovered evidence which, while not tending to prove the existence of an anarchist plot against President McKinley, will at least serve to hold one of the men who were arrested in Chicago.

As soon as information was received here of the arrest of Edward Wolczynski, of this city, in Chicago, Sergeant Doran and Detective Schmunk were detailed to search the house in which he lived at No. 1670 Broadway. They found stored away on top of a cupboard fifty feet of fuse, such as is ordinarily used in the manufacture of dynamite bombs. The information was at once telegraphed to the Chicago authorities.

Wolczynski while in the city was employed as a writer on a Polish newspaper known as the Star.

WAS AFTER NOTORIETY.

Wilkesburre, Pa., Sept. 13.—It was learned here today that Leon Czolgosz made a tour of the anthracite coal regions about six years ago. He was employed for awhile by the Lackawanna Coal company at Duryea, this county, and while there is said to have organized a lodge of anarchists. He could speak several languages and soon became popular with the foreign element. He was known as Fred Naiman. People who came in contact with Czolgosz then say he was after notoriety all the time and whenever the anarchists met he insisted on doing all the talking. His theory was that the condition of the working people in this country would never be improved until the doctrines advocated by the anarchists were put into practice.

MAY PREPARE A LAW.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Messrs. Botkin and Bynum, members of the commission to revise and codify the criminal and penal laws of the United States since the attack upon the life of the president, have been investigating the authorities with a view to the preparation of a law making an assault upon the president with intent to murder cognizable in the courts of the United States and punishable by death. They have prepared a draft of a bill to be submitted to congress making assault upon the president a felony and punishable by death, when the assault is for the purpose of obstructing the operations of government. It is believed that this qualification will have the effect of giving the federal courts jurisdiction in such cases.

THREATENS ROOSEVELT.

Berlin, N. H., Sept. 13.—Learning that a man who had left here this afternoon for New York had declared that he was on his way to Washington to kill Vice President Roosevelt, Chief of Police Youngeliss has telegraphed the chief of police of New York to look out for him. The man was a foreigner. He tried to buy a ticket to Washington, but could not do so, and bought one for New York.

Charles Neibergall, a druggist, who left this city over a year ago for Colorado, has returned and will remain here if he finds employment.

Dr. Watkins, on the Dayton twirling staff last season, is now assistant surgeon on the Northern Pacific railroad.

Poison Oak Poison Ivy

are among the best known of the many dangerous wild plants and shrubs. To touch or handle them quickly produces swelling and inflammation with intense itching and burning of the skin. The eruption soon disappears, the sufferer hopes forever; but almost as soon as the little blisters and pustules appeared the poison had reached the blood, and will break out at regular intervals and each time in a more aggravated form. This poison will loiter in the system for years, and every atom of it must be forced out of the blood before you can expect a perfect, permanent cure.

S S S Nature's Antidote FOR Nature's Poisons, is the only cure for Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, and all noxious plants. It is composed exclusively of roots and herbs. Now is the time to get the poison out of your system, as delay makes your condition worse. Don't experiment longer with salves, washes and soaps—they never cure.

Mr. S. M. Marshall, book-keeper of the Atlanta (Ga.) Gas Light Co., was poisoned with Poison Oak. He took Sulphur, Arsenic and various other drugs, and applied externally numerous lotions and salves with no benefit. At times the swelling and inflammation was so severe he was almost blind. For eight years the poison would break out every season. His condition was much improved after taking one bottle of S. S. S., and a few bottles cleared his blood of the poison, and all evidences of the disease disappeared.

People are often poisoned without knowing when or how. Explain your case fully to our physicians, and they will cheerfully give such information and advice as you require, without charge, and we will send at the same time an interesting book on Blood and Skin Diseases.

He was very weak and his heart was so feeble that they feared lest his life might go out at any time.

The little coterie below stairs watched the clock tick away the minutes and hours, perhaps the life of the president, without a word of encouragement until 4 o'clock, when the president rallied slightly. The saline solution which saved Mrs. McKinley's life in San Francisco had proved in a measure effective. It was given the president shortly after the sinking spell began.

Drs. Mann and Mynter left for their homes. Their only reassuring word was that they had not given up hope.

MRS. M'KINLEY NOT TOLD.

During the whole dreadful night Mrs. McKinley knew nothing of the sudden change that had come. She slept peacefully in her room through it all.

At 5:30 Secretary Wilson came out looking haggard and dejected.

"The president has a fighting chance," said he. The tone of his words sounded like the expression of a forlorn hope.

No word came out of the Milburn residence for almost an hour after Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock had left. The bulletin usually issued at 6:30 was omitted. Dr. Rixey at 7:30 told the representatives of the Associated Press that he felt slightly encouraged.

"The president has rallied somewhat," said he, "but then you know," he added, "the president is usually better in the morning."

EXTRAS WERE ISSUED.

The Buffalo papers all had extras with the sad intelligence of the president's relapse on the streets at daylight. One paper announced that the president was dying. The result was that the whole city was thoroughly aroused and alarmed early, and before 7 o'clock crowds of people flocked in the direction of the Milburn house to learn if the latest news was not more reassuring. They stood at the ropes far down the intersecting streets and waited patiently for the appearance of the morning bulletin. Many of them refused to credit the news of the president's sudden change for the worse, until they had learned by word of mouth from the sentries of the president's dangerous and critical condition.

The first person to arrive for the morning consultation was Dr. Wasdin, who drove up in his buggy at 8:15. He passed quickly into the Milburn residence.

"I have been absent for a couple of hours," said he, "and I do not know the condition of the president. I hope he is better."

ABNER M'KINLEY THERE.

Two minutes later Abner McKinley walked down to the corner to tell his coachman, who had been waiting for him with a carriage for an hour, that he would not go to his hotel for breakfast. He then returned to the Milburn residence.

Dr. Mann came up in an automobile two minutes later. "I have nothing to say now," he said, in reply to a question as he passed into the roped enclosure to the house. The new detail for guard duty for today arrived from Fort Porter a few minutes later. The guard was changed and the sentries posted for the day. Lieut. Chas. N. Murphy was the new officer in charge.

Dr. Mynter arrived at 8:33. "I saw the president at 5 o'clock," said he. "His condition was then very grave."

After he entered the house Abner McKinley, Dr. Baer, the president's nephew by marriage, and Mr. Milburn came out of the house and stood in conversation on the lawn. Mr. McKinley was smoking a cigar. He received and read a telegram and then turned to his companions and showed it to them.

HURRIED AWAY.

While they were talking together Col. W. C. Brown, of New York, and Lieutenant McKinley came out of the house and after a hurried conference with Abner McKinley, they hastened to the corner, where an automobile was in waiting. "The president is a little better," said Colonel Brown, as he directed the chauffeur to go as rapidly as possible to the Lennox. This is the hotel at which Mrs. Abner McKinley and Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock are stopping.

At 8:40 William H. Hengerer, a Buffalo business man, who had called to see Mr. Milburn, said that Mr. Milburn had informed him that there had been some encouragement during the last half hour and it was believed that the president had a fighting chance.

Dr. Park did not reach the house until 8:35 o'clock, being the last of the physicians to arrive for the morning consultation.

A CRANK APPEARS.

At 8:50, while the consultation was going on inside, and old lady, who was plainly a crank, approached the inner rope and insisted upon being admitted. She said she desired to see Mrs. McKinley: "I have something important to say to her," she said. One of the secret service men kindly led her aside and listened to her long story of how she proposed to cure the president by means of her prayers.

A stream of callers began arriving early. Several of the foreigners connected with the exposition arrived to inquire about the president's condition. All callers were met at the door by Mr. Milburn, who informed them that the President had rallied fairly well. Major Symmons, of the army, one of the callers, said he had been informed that the president was a very, very sick man.

A BARE FIGHTING CHANCE.

"But the physicians say he has a bare fighting chance," said he.

Secretaries Hitchcock and Wilson, who left the house about 5 o'clock this morning, returned in an electric cab at 9:20. They stopped on the lawn to speak to Abner McKinley before entering the house.

At 9:30 the scene about the Milburn residence was one that will live in the memory of those who witnessed it as long as life lasts. Down the streets in every direction people were massed hundreds deep, while at the corner, where the headquarters of the press are located, correspondents of all the leading journals of the world were waiting ready to flash the first news far as the wires reach, while within the tents the busy telegraph instruments were clicking off the sad intelligence. In front of the residence the blue coated soldiers paced with arms at right shoulder. All were waiting, waiting, almost breathlessly, for the news.

The doctors finished their consultation at 9:40. They left the house together and stopped for a few minutes on the lawn to convey their verdict first to the president's brother. Chaplain Sykes, of the navy, in his black vestments, who had come to inquire after the president's health, lifted his hat as the men upon whom the president's life depends passed him.

DOCTORS LOOKED GRAVE.

The physicians looked serious as they walked away from the residence. Dr. Mann and Dr. Mynter came away together. "We are very anxious," said Dr. Mann, "very anxious," he repeated, as he entered the carriage in waiting.

"Have you given up hope?"

"By no means," replied the doctor. "Is he better than when you saw him last?"

"He is better than he was in the early hours of the morning." He responded as he directed the coachman to drive away.

LITTLE ENCOURAGEMENT.

Dr. Mynter had little encouragement to offer.

"I am not absolutely without hope," said he. "The president has a fighting chance, but I would be more hopeful if the day were passed and he had gained a little strength. He has improved some since early this morning, but the improvement is very slight. The trouble lies with his heart. We are stimulating it and our treatment has been fairly successful."

Dr. Mynter admitted that saline solution and other means to stimulate the action of the heart were being administered.

NOT ABSOLUTELY HOPELESS.

"I will say in answer to your question," replied Dr. Mynter, hesitatingly, "that I do not consider the case absolutely hopeless. I should be more hopeful if the day were passed and it had shown some improvement in his condition."

Dr. Mynter's remarks left the inference that the crisis might be prolonged.

The bulletin which was issued was slightly reassuring and indicated that the crisis might be prolonged, stating definitely that the president's condition had somewhat improved during the past few hours and that there was better response to stimulation. But his pulse was up to 128 and the convictions grew that it was almost a forlorn hope.

It was learned that the physicians had decided it would not be well for Mrs. McKinley to enter the sick room today, both on account of her feeble health and the excitement it might cause the president.

So far as can be learned Mrs. McKinley had not been informed up to 10 o'clock of the grave condition in which her husband was.

RELATIVES ARRIVE.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the intimate friends and relatives of the president, who were telegraphed for early this morning, began to arrive, and soon after 10 o'clock there were assembled in the down stairs rooms of the Milburn house Senators Hanna and Fairbanks, ex-Secretary of State Day, Secretary Wilson and Secretary Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Baer, Abner McKinley, Miss Helen McKinley and Mrs. Duncan, sister of the president, and Mrs. Lafayette McWilliams, in addition to John G. Milburn, Former Postmaster General Bissell, John I. Scatcher, of Buffalo, and Representative Alexander, of the Buffalo district. The latter came from the house and said: "If the president successfully weathers the morning his chances of ultimate recovery will be greatly increased because his condition, other than his heart weakness, is very encouraging."

SENATOR HANNA THERE.

Senator Hanna came on a special train from Cleveland, making the run in the remarkable fast time of three hours. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hanna, Colonel Myron T. Herrick, Miss Barber and a few other friends of the president. He received the news at 4 o'clock this morning and immediately ordered a special train.

All the cabinet officers were telegraphed at 3 o'clock this morning and are now, presumably, on their way hither. Dr. W. W. Johnson, of Washington, who is at Portsmouth, N. H., and Dr. Janeway, of New York, both celebrated heart specialists, have been summoned.

A celebrated heart specialist, who has been watching the bulletins closely, has expressed the opinion that the extreme weakness of the heart is due to the shock of the first bullet, which struck the president's breast bone and now manifesting itself for the first time.

PRESIDENT CONSCIOUS.

The president is perfectly conscious despite his extreme weakness. This morning, when the nurses sought to adjust the pillows so as to shut out the light of the window, the president protested. "No, I want to see the trees," he murmured. "They are so beautiful."

The doctors believe he fully realizes how low he is, although he has not been informed. When Mrs. McKinley was told that it would be better for her not to see him this morning, she assented without protest, but she seemed to realize the full importance of the request, though she said nothing.

Secretary Hitchcock was heartbroken by the sudden dashing down of the high hopes he had held of the president's recovery, but loyally believes and will hope on to the end.

"I refuse to surrender," said he, with great emotion, at 10:30. "I will not give up hope while life remains. I shall hope on and pray on to the end."

A NOTE OF HOPE.

Congressman Alexander at 10:45 gave the most encouraging news of the morning. He said:

"It is not true that the physicians are without hope or that those gathered in the house are despondent. The lowering of the heart action is a natural result of the giving of a cathartic and was expected. It was found that the solid food given yesterday had not passed through the stomach and that a cathartic would have to be given. Then came the reaction. The physicians gave a saline solution, but in very small quantity, and this forenoon used some digitalis, but also in small quantities. They did not want to use any more artificial means than absolutely necessary. The results so far are being observed and the president is now sleeping, watched by Drs. Rixey, Park and Wasdin.

"Everybody about the house is hopeful. The two men who know him best, Secretary Cortelyou and Senator Hanna, are cheerful and as confident as the set-back will allow. They both know his strong will and they think that will help. Drs. Janeway and Johnson have been summoned to take care of the heart action. In other respects the president is doing well."

SAYS THERE IS HOPE.

Rev. Dr. Corwin Wilson, who was once pastor of the First Methodist church of Canton, where the president worshiped for many years, was among those who called at the house during the morning. When he left he said:

"Yes, there is hope for the president. His brother tells me he is making a supreme fight for life. I feel most deeply for the president, for at Canton in by-gone days I was his pastor and truly know his noble character."

Congressman Olmstead was in the Milburn house at 11:10 in company with C. W. Goodyear, of Buffalo. The latter said that the most encouraging phase of the situation was to be found in the hopeful demeanor of those closest to the president. Senator Hanna's confidence and Abner McKinley's sanguine hopes were good.

The senator is quoted as adding:

"The president most certainly has a fighting chance. I still believe he will pull through."

Secretary Cortelyou has refrained from visiting the president's room, and, in fact, nobody but the doctors or the nurses have been in the apartment.

MORE ENCOURAGEMENT.

Ansley Wilcox, who entertained Vice President Roosevelt when he was here, came out of the Milburn house at 11:30 and said:

"So far as I can learn the physicians and those in the Milburn house are very hopeful. Since the early morning the president has improved slightly and even the slightest improvement is more than the physicians had expected."

Dr. Mann was asked this morning to make an authorized statement regarding the president's condition in addition to that contained in the bulletins. This he declined to do, but in response to inquiries he said:

"No, I cannot say anything about any crisis in the case. A patient may continue in the condition the president now is for some time and then pick up or not, just as the case may develop. The president is in a very serious condition, it is true, but it is absurd to say he is dying, as stated by some persons this morning. I cannot make any further statement about the case just now."

MAY BE DUE TO SHOCK.

The suggestion has been made to the physicians that the extremely weakened heart which threatens the president's life may be due to the shock received by him from the bullet which struck the breast bone and glanced off. Dr. McBurney, the well known New York surgeon, who participated in the case early in the week, has advanced this theory and it is possible the latter may be asked to come again to Buffalo for further consultation.

The question as to whether he should be asked to come here was left to the decision of Secretary Cortelyou.

GOVERNOR YATES CALLS.

Governor Yates, of Illinois, and Col. Russell B. Harrison, emerging from the mansion at 11:30, brought the same news, given by early callers, its purport being that the president is not only holding his own, but improving slightly.

Governor Yates held a conversation with Mr. Milburn and was advised that it might be well to postpone until later in the day any program that had been arranged for Illinois day at the exposition.

Mr. Milburn informed the governor that he would be advised later and that if the president continued to rest comfortable, as at present, there would seem to be no reason to entirely abandon the day's program.

WAS HOLDING HIS OWN.

"The president is holding his own. This is all I care to say publicly," the doctor said:

It is learned, however, that at 11 o'clock the attending physicians decided to stop the use of the saline injections as the patient had begun to revive from the extreme depression. It was deemed wise to withhold the saline solution for a possible future sinking spell. The quantity of digitalis was also diminished to ascertain if the president's heart could do without stimulants.

To a representative of the Associated Press Dr. Wasdin said: "I cannot reiterate it too often; the president is holding his own."

"Has he rallied perceptibly, doctor?" was asked.

"Yes, and no," replied the surgeon.

"What does that mean?"

"It simply means," was the answer, "that there are fluctuations. One moment the patient appears to revive, the next the depression returns."

HOPE NOT ABANDONED.

"The physicians have not abandoned hope, have they?" was asked.

"By no manner of means. Again I say there is certainly a fighting chance. At present the condition of the president is not hopeless, but within ten minutes the greatly to be feared moment might come."

"Is it true, doctor, that the saline injections have been stopped?"

"Hardly. Indeed we gave such an injection not long ago. The patient responded, and we are waiting to see if another will be necessary."

Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock followed Dr. Wasdin and went away in an automobile to the Buffalo club. The former said:

SENATOR HANNA HOPES.

Senator Hanna, who was in the house quite a long time, emerged at 12:25 p. m. He walked very slowly and appeared very grave.

"Is there any good news, Senator?" he was asked.

"Well, there is not any good news. I can only say that the president has a fighting chance. I am always hopeful. My faith is strong. I saw a rainbow in the sky as I came up here this morning. I hope it is prophetic."

Senator Fairbanks and Judge Day came out shortly after Senator Hanna departed. They would not discuss the case beyond saying the president was holding his own.

The Sabbath school of Plymouth Congregational church is preparing a special program for rally day, which occurs Sunday, Sept. 29th.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Calvary U. B. church will meet next Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Allen Bowser, on East Creighton avenue.

The young people's society of Grace Reformed church is preparing to give a social and entertainment Thursday evening, Sept. 26th.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stevens and children are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Rabus on their way home from a trip to the Yellowstone.

There will be preaching and quarterly conference, conducted by Rev. H. Schleucher, of Andrews, Ind., at Bethel Evangelical church this evening.

A. L. Hadley, of the electric works, has purchased a lot on Hoagland avenue, just south of Creighton, from J. M. Barrett, and will erect a residence thereon.

Miss Hanker's opening reception will be given at the Wayne club Tuesday evening, Sept. 24. A cotillion, entitled, "A Trip to the Pan-American," will be given during the season.

Hicksville News: The Fort Wayne Sentinel showed considerable enterprise in issuing an extra of the weekly edition, giving the news of the attempt on the life of President McKinley.

At the Eureka bowling alleys yesterday John Farnan averaged 211 for four games and Clarence Allen averaged 201. These are the highest average scores ever made at the Eureka alleys.

Rev. Z. A. Harris, pastor of the West Creighton avenue Church of Christ, who has been engaged in evangelistic work at Saturn for the past ten days, has returned home and will occupy his pulpit Sunday as usual.

Rev. J. Webster Bailey, pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, has been chosen to represent Indiana at the national conference of ministers and delegates of the Congregational church at Portland, Maine, in the middle of October.

The Misses Henson and Pearson, of Chicago, have organized an orchestra, consisting of cornet, clarionet and violins, among the congregation of Plymouth Congregational church and the organization will make its initial appearance Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bitler, of East Wayne street, had as guests for a short time Mr. and Mrs. David Bitler, of Chester county, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Kline, of Grand Rapids. The former couple were en route to their home and Mr. and Mrs. Kline were en route to Worcester, Mass., to see their son.

The members of the Tuesday club and their husbands were entertained at dinner at 7 o'clock at the Ohneck cafe last evening by Mesdames. J. A. Stutz, Martin Gross, B. V. Sweringen and J. C. Heller. After dinner the party went to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Sweringen, where the evening was pleasantly passed with cards.

Decatur Democrat: "Miss Margaret Hanna, the Fort Wayne music instructor, who has been making regular visits here for several years past and who has been most successful, will give up her work here with this week's lessons. During her visits here Miss Hanna has made hundreds of friends, who at least hope she may return now and then for a visit."

Run Down

Then don't expect to be cured in a minute! It takes a little time to get your blood pure and rich. We haven't room to explain. Just ask your doctor why Ayer's Sarsaparilla is such a good medicine for debility, weak nerves, and indigestion.

"I was very poorly and could hardly get about the house. Then I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and only two bottles of it made me feel perfectly well." Mrs. N. S. Swinney, Princeton, Mo.

BUYS OUT HIS PARTNER.

(New Haven News.)

Monday a deal was made whereby Charles W. Bolyard becomes the sole owner of the Hartzell Ice Cream company, he having purchased the interests of his partner, William Soest. The new firm will be styled C. W. Bolard and Sons. Just who will have charge of the Fort Wayne depot has not yet been decided, but a hustler will be placed at that place and the firm is confident of still increasing its business.

FIRE AT EDGERTON.

Edgerton, Ind., Sept. 13.—Thursday morning at 9:30 the residences of Mrs. McSorley and J. B. Grabner, in this place, were totally destroyed by fire. Mrs. McSorley is a widow and lost the contents of her home as well, with no insurance. Mr. Grabner had some insurance, and most of his household goods were saved. It was only by the heroic efforts of citizens that the residence of David Gainway, as well as others in the vicinity, were saved.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

Fort Wayne wants interurban railroads and a way into the city will be found for all that try to come in.

This is, according to the superstitious, the kind of day for evil tidings and woeful things. It is Friday and the thirteenth day of the month.

The next modern naval commander who goes into action should fortify himself by having his lawyer on one side, his stenographer on the other and a photographer in the rear, so as to have all the evidence in indisputable form.

Lord Roberts has recommended over 5,000 officers and men of the British army for promotion and honors, in recognition of services in South Africa. It is to be hoped that the list includes the name of Baden-Powell. That gallant soldier, although he conducted the defence of Mafeking in a most brilliant manner and is one of the few officers who have come out of the Boer war with credit, has been distinctly snubbed by his government. It is said that the Cecils do not like him.

Now it is reported in New York that a discovery has been made in Connecticut of the manufacture of milk by chemicals. When it comes to chemical-made milk it is time to draw the line. The babies are entitled to the natural product, pure and wholesome. Anyone trying to pass off bogus milk should be made to pay a sharp penalty.

The sultan has settled with one of the smaller French claimants, moved thereto perhaps by the expulsion from France of his spies. But M. Delcasse wants him to pay what he owes to all the claimants before considering a resumption of diplomatic relations. Abdul Hamid is in mortal fear of the young Turkey party which has its headquarters in Paris, and he is desperately anxious to regain the privilege of watching the movement through the Turkish secret service. This consideration may cause him to find money enough to satisfy the French claims and get on speaking terms again with President Loubet.

The meeting to be held next week under the auspices of the Commercial club to discuss the interurban franchise matter and other phases of interurban railways as they affect Fort Wayne ought to do some good. The city of Fort Wayne's class that is without these promoters of trade is behind the times and getting in the rear of the procession. If we are to have interurban roads, they must be allowed to come down town. The most satisfactory means to this end is a matter that the gentlemen of the Commercial club and others who may participate in the forthcoming meeting will find eminently worthy of discussion and solution.

THE NATION AGAIN ANXIOUS.

With scarcely less shock than was caused by news of the foul assault upon him the people of the nation learned this morning that the life of the president was trembling in the balance and the worst feared by his physicians and others close about him.

So sturdily had he come through the first dread crisis and so rapidly had he mended that the people of the country, more taking counsel of their hopes than of technical information, had come to regard the president's recovery from his wounds and his restoration to health and strength as a matter amply assured. Thus is it that the sorrowful information of this dread relapse comes doubly weighted with grief and anxiety.

The news late this afternoon from the president's bedside is of a more encouraging nature, though it is not sought by any one in authority over the patient to obscure the fact that President McKinley is desperately ill, with most of the chances against him.

The whole nation will pray that the same skill of physicians, the same strength of will and splendid courage of the president, and the same watchful and beneficent Providence which brought him through the earlier crisis of his prostration may all be with him through this and that he may soon be restored to his beloved wife, his devoted friends and his anxious country.

OBSERVE NEW YEAR TONIGHT

New Year, Called "Rosh Hashannah," Begins This Evening When the Sun Sets.

At sunset tonight the Jewish New Year, called Rosh Hashanah, begins. It is the year 5,662 according to Jewish and also Biblical reckoning, and commemorates the creation of the world. Hence it is called "Yom Hazzikkoron," or day of memorial, and is, as it were, the world's birthday, the anniversary of the virgin of the universe.

As such it suggests the sublimest thoughts of God's goodness and God's love. It reminds us that also that this is a moral universe and that its author and ruler is also its judge. Hence Rosh Hashanah is also called "Yom Hadin," which means "Day of Judgment." With the Jew judgment is not postponed until the end of all things, but on each new year he is specially reminded that there is an eye that has seen all and an ear that hears all, and that his actions are as if written in a book.

It is the custom in all Synagogues for the "shopper" or trumpet to be blown to arouse the worshippers to a realization of the full import of the day; also to impress them with the majesty of God as before earthly rulers and trumpet or bugle is sounded. For this reason Rosh Hashanah is also called "Yom Hatteruah," day of the blowing of the cornet.

Rosh Hashanah is the first of the so-called ten penetential days culminating with the great and solemn "Yom Kippur," or day of atonement, a day of fasting and of prayer for the forgiveness of sin. On this day the Jew not only prays for his own sins to be forgiven, but seeks to be worthy of the divine grace by forgiving also those who have in any way injured or offended him, the day thus deriving its beautiful name, "Day of Renunciation;" renunciation with self, with one's fellows and therefore also with God.

Though the most serious time in the religious life of the Jew, Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur are nevertheless a season of most solemn joy and gladness. The Jew girds himself again after the summer's rest and relaxation to take up once more the burden of life, and assume all the duties and responsibilities of an earnest, strenuous existence. It is most helpful and inspiring for these soul-searching and life-uplifting days to come just at the time when all the world is preparing to enter on the work and activity of winter. Rosh Hashanah is a festival of great joy among the Jews. It is a time of interchange of gifts and of happy family reunions. Cards and letters of greeting and congratulation are sent to friends and relatives far near, bearing the inscription, "Leshanah Tovu;" meaning "For a good year," or as we should say, "A Happy New Year."

IN THE JUSTICES' COURTS.

William Zellers was arrested this morning for assault and battery on George Irwin. Justice Huser will try the case this afternoon.

Several weeks ago Mrs. Jeff Toler filed an affidavit against her husband, charging him with desertion. Jeff kept out of reach of the officers, but was caught this morning and will have his trial in Huser's court this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The domestic troubles of the Tolers are like an open book.

Frank M. Monroe, of Springfield, is the lessee of a piece of property upon which he lives. The owner of the property died recently and the heirs, who live in Auburn, DeKalb county, have succeeded thereto. On the Springfield township tract is some timber which Charles McClellan, of Auburn, one of the heirs, sold to certain parties. The purchaser sent Isaac Burrick, Silas Morton, Nathan Culburt and David Johns, wood choppers, to the farm to cut off the timber. Monroe, the tenant and lessee, ordered them to desist, but they refused to obey the order. Monroe then came to this city and in Bullerman's court filed an affidavit charging the above named woodchoppers with trespass and with interfering with his rights as a tenant. The men were arrested and brought to the city, when they gave bond for their appearance in Bullerman's court.

Christian Witte, an east side saloon keeper, was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued in Tancey's court, charging him with violating the Nicholson law. By agreement the charge was modified to Sabbath desecration, to which the defendant entered a plea of guilty and paid a fine of $1 and costs.

THE NEWS OF THE POLICE

Judge Louttit having returned to the city again, presided at police court this morning. The only case was that of William Miller, arrested for vagrancy. He claims to have been working regularly, but it was shown that while he works some at odd jobs, he puts in most of his time begging around on the north side, and sleeps in barns and out buildings. He says he is sick, and the officers say he is demented. He was sent over for fifteen days.

Officer Poppert found a pocketbook yesterday evening containing a small amount of money and some receipts. The purse is supposed to belong to Mrs. Harry J. Miller.

The police were called to quell a family disturbance on Charles street last night. When the officers arrived the trouble was over and no arrests were made.

Mrs. W. F. Gracter complains that a stray dog, owned by nobody, yesterday bit her little boy. She wants the officers to shoot the dog.

KEY RETAINS HIS NERVE.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 13.—Sheriff Crandal returned last evening from Michigan City, to which place he took Banker Key, who is now an inmate of the penitentiary. Key has plenty of nerve. The sight of the prison walls had no terror for him, and he never once expressed a regret at what he had done. He was jovial and good-natured, even when donning his suit of stripes and checks. He talked a great deal en route to that place and several times expressed his confidence that he would gain his liberty after serving two years' time. He also hinted that when he was released from prison he would be worth at least $10,000, or that he would earn $10,000 in a very short time thereafter.

WAS STRICKEN SUDDENLY.

(Huntington Herald.)

Additional particulars regarding the death of Mrs. Sylvester Dinius, at Detroit, Monday evening, are that she was in her usual condition of health and had gone to Belle Isle with Fort Wayne friends to spend the day. They ate their dinner on the island and in a little while after the repast Mrs. Dinius remarked that she felt very queer in her head and body. She immediately became unconscious. Her husband was at Fort Wayne, but her son, Bert, was there and had her conveyed to a hospital, but she did not regain consciousness and died at 5 o'clock in the evening. The husband did not reach Detroit until after the death had occurred.

ON CITY AND INTERURBAN ELECTRIC LINES.

Fifteen Prominent Citizens Chosen to Aid in Adjusting Franchises and Getting New Lines.

In accordance with a resolution adopted by the Commercial club at its meeting Thursday evening President F. V. Culbertson today appointed a special committee of fifteen well-known, progressive-spirited citizens as a committee on city and interurban railroads. These have been selected:

Henry Beadell, chairman.
Charles McCulloch.
Charles S. Bash.
Samuel M. Foster.
William P. Breen.
John W. White.
Stephen B. Bond.
Louis Fox.
Robert B. Hanna.
Robert Millard.
Fred S. Hunting.
Charles A. Wilding.
A. J. Moynihan.
Alex. Mergentheim.
George R. Hench.

This committee will take up an important problem now before the people of Fort Wayne, and attempt to aid in reaching a basis on which the present street car system may be extended, and upon which every new electric line which may desire to come to Fort Wayne may be enabled to do so upon favorable terms. It will act upon a platform of progress. It is made up of representative men of high standing, and it is expected that acting jointly with the city authorities and the electric line promoters much good may be accomplished upon a basis which will be entirely fair to all interests.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mrs. Simpson, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Asterlin, has returned to her home at Bellevue, Ohio.

The Caledonian society enjoyed a social last evening at its hall, the opening session of the series of winter amusements annually given by this society.

Miss Nellie Fritz, who has been visiting her parents and other friends in the city, leaves this evening for Baltimore, Ohio, where she is conducting a millinery store.

The Wayne Biscuit company, whose cracker factory on Barr street has been in successful operation for several weeks, has sent an invitation to the members of the Commercial club to pay a visit of inspection to the institution, which is now employing about thirty-five people. The invitation will be accepted with thanks.

William Swank, of Decatur, arrived in the city last evening to enter St. Joseph hospital, where he is under the care of Dr. A. E. Bulson. Several days ago, while working about some machinery, a belt which flew from a pulley struck Mr. Swank in the right eye, tearing the lid and bursting the eyeball. The injury is a very severe one and it will be impossible to save the sight of the eye.

GETS ANOTHER PATENT.

Britton Poulson, of this city, has just received a patent upon a new windmill of his own invention, which experts claim the best now in existence. He hopes to organize a company in Fort Wayne to manufacture this new mill upon a large scale. Mr. Poulson is the inventor of quite a number of very successful machines, among which are a well-known road scraper and a washing machine, which attracted much attention.

CALLED A MEETING

TO DISCUSS INTERURBAN FRANCHISE MATTERS.

COMMERCIAL CLUB WANTS A FULL DISCUSSION.

NEW PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Acting upon the suggestion of several of its members Thursday evening, the Fort Wayne Commercial club has taken up the consideration of the electric railroad franchise question in Fort Wayne, with the hope of aiding in solving a problem that all realize to be of vital interest to the city. The club hopes that some understanding may be reached whereby not only the present system may be extended, but that provisions may be made to offer desirable entrances to the city for all the interurban lines that may knock for admission.

To this end a special meeting has been called for next Thursday evening at the rooms of the Commercial club, and the program committee will arrange to have a number of prominent citizens selected to discuss the matter. In addition to this, the most general and free discussion is invited, not alone from club members, but from all who have an interest in the city's welfare. Assisting in the work of solving the perplexing problem, President Culbertson has been directed to appoint a committee of fifteen whose duty it shall be to give all possible aid to interurban lines desiring to enter Fort Wayne.

Among those who spoke upon the matter at the inaugural meeting of the Commercial club Thursday evening were P. A. Randall, S. M. Foster, N. D. Doughman, S. L. Nelson, Alexander Johnson, F. E. Purcell and R. B. Hanna, and all were anxious to lend encouragement to every line that may be projected into the city. Superintendent Nelson, of the Fort Wayne and Southwestern, announced that the laying of the rails on that line would be completed to the city limits today, and he invited the club officials and committees to make a trip over the line. The invitation was accepted and one of the new cars will be used, propelled by a locomotive.

THE INAUGURAL.

F. V. Culbertson, the new club president, assumed the chair at the opening of the club session Thursday evening, and after the approval of the minutes of the previous meeting delivered his inaugural address as follows:

"At the regular meeting of the directors of this club in July last I was selected as your presiding officer for the coming year. I desire to thank you for the honor paid me and to assure you that I appreciate the compliment. Had I been present at that meeting I should have strongly opposed my election, for to my mind there are many members of this organization more ably qualified to fill the office and much more entitled to the honor than myself. However, I desire to show my appreciation of what you have done by accepting the office, and shall endeavor by my deeds to emphasize that appreciation by conducting the affairs of the club as I best see and understand the same and in a manner which I trust shall meet your approval.

"It gives me great pleasure as your chosen leader to greet you at this the opening session of another year. I wish to congratulate the club on the interest manifested by its officers, committees and members since its organization; on the good management that has prevailed, on its splendid financial condition, and on its magnificent membership list. The membership, containing as it does representative men from nearly all if not every calling known to our city, is a testimonial to the interest manifested in this organization and in the general welfare of Fort Wayne. I trust these favored conditions may continue and that our membership may be gradually enlarged.

WHAT IT HAS DONE.

"The question is sometimes asked, 'What has the Commercial club done?' Without any attempt at details I should reply to this by saying if it never did more than to call the representative business men of the city together in friendly discussion and interchange of thought on matters pertaining to the club and the good of our town its organization has been well worth the effort. Perhaps some errors or mistakes have been made in the past. If so, then the Commercial club does not differ materially in this respect from other business societies. I think we have known of cases where municipal bodies and state legislatures have made blunders—indeed, congress itself does not seem to be free from this charge—therefore, this accusation should not discourage or disband us. Let us accept the charge, if any, of errors or mistakes filed against us, without seeking to lay the blame on others than ourselves, and profit by the lessons taught and the experiences gained as a guide to right in the future.

"At the outset many got the impression that the chief aim of this organization was to encourage, promote and locate manufacturing institutions. This line of effort is highly commendable where legitimately pursued on sound business principles and when so done shall always have my earnest support. At the same time I desire to remind you of the obligation we owe to the splendid industrial concerns already with us, managed and directed by our own citizens, our neighbors, to whose energy and fidelity magnificent results have been attained that have done so much to help build up Fort Wayne and broaden and strengthen its good name in the world of commerce. To these men and their concerns we owe a debt of gratitude; we owe them our protection; we owe them in every way our encouragement, and should never for a moment lose sight of them in our eagerness to locate new institutions.

NEW FACTORIES.

"Personally, I have always been opposed to the cash bonus plan of securing new manufacturing concerns, but any legitimate aid along the line of factory sites and the construction of buildings for worthy institutions in the hands of and directed by desirable people, or for proposed new concerns being promoted by those entitled to our confidence and aid, I shall earnestly approve and support.

"It seems to me, when I look over the advantages possessed by our city for manufacturing or wholesale concerns, that those earnestly seeking new and desirable locations would be disposed to decide readily in our favor after making proper investigation.

"With shipping facilities beyond dispute—in fact, surpassing any other inland city of similar population in the middle west, so far as known to me—skilled labor of the highest type, of which a remarkable percentage own their own homes, which always insures a better citizenship, freeness from strikes and labor turmoils of all kinds; fuel as cheap as in any city similarly located; the best of banking facilities; financial institutions to aid and encourage the home builder; a magnificent city to reside in, clean, healthy and with a low death rate, it does seem to me we have every inducement to offer worthy of the intelligent and right thinking.

OTHER TOPICS COME UP.

"Aside from the industrial question, there are constantly topics and movements pertaining to the welfare and upbuilding of our city that must be discussed and settled. Nowhere can this be done better, if undertaken in the right spirit, than on the floors of the Commercial club. For all such topics or movements of whatever kind or nature that justly fall within the range of this civic society I bespeak a fair and candid hearing and a wise and business-like solution. Whether it be municipal improvement, franchises or what not, let the subject in hand be approached with a spirit of fairness and sensible reasoning, with an earnest desire to deal justly with both sides. Acrimonious language and personal animosities must be laid down if we desire to serve aright and be served likewise.

"If a town is what its people make it, then it is just as fair to presume that we, the people, are to be judged by hat our town is. Let us see to it that we are judged rightly by seizing the opportunities that come to us, and by making the most of them along the lines have suggested.

"As for we of the Fort Wayne Commercial club, let us so conduct our deliberations and our business as to receive the favor of public sentiment, so necessary to success in all important undertaking. Just in proportion as we learn to sacrifice personal gain and individual preferences for the good of the whole people, in that proportion do I believe will our efforts be fruitful. To this end I solicit your co-operation and support and pledge you my best effort to the last."

STANDING COMMITTEESS.

President Culbertson was warmly applauded. The appointment of standing committees for the year was then made as follows:

Committee on City Interests—Samuel M. Foster, chairman; Dr. E. J. McOscar, P. A. Randall, Charles McCulloch, A. Mergentheim.

Committee on Manufacturers and Commerce—W. F. Graeter, chairman; Louis F. Curdes, Charles Falk, W. E. Doud, E. M. Wilson.

Committee on Membership—Robert Millard, chairman; F. L. Smock, J. W. Bell, E. C. Shull, A. S. Bond.

Committee on Press and Printing—W. R. Seavey, chairman; William Lawson, H. C. Moderwell, William Paul, jr., A. Z. Palhamus.

OTHER MATTERS UP.

The proposition of Dr. W. H. Tolman, of New York, to deliver a free lecture at the Commercial club rooms on the evening of October 19, in the interest of the Industrial Betterment league, was accepted.

The Adam Schaaf Piano company, of Chicago, is anxious to secure a new location and the club will endeavor to enlist their interest in Fort Wayne. It is an old established concern, employing about 150 men. A. S. Bond, of the Packard company, was liberally applauded when he stated to in answer to the question of Col. D. N. Foster that the Packard company would have no objection to the location of the Schaaf company in Fort Wayne, and that it would be a splendid industry for the city.

T. F. Thieme was directed to take steps toward securing the location of a concern for the manufacture of an automatic piano playing device in this city. A number of other factory propositions were referred to the committee on manufactures.

President Culbertson reported that reduced railroad rates had been secured for the reunion of the Eighty-eighth Indiana regiment in this city next month, and that in response to the request of citizens of the towns west of this city he had been endeavoring to have the Pennsylvania company resume the old Plymouth accommodation train, which was popular for so many years. Superintendent McKim has the matter under consideration.

WANT STREET CAR SERVICE

SOUTH BROADWAY RESIDENTS IN EARNEST.

Held an Enthusiastic Meeting Thursday Evening and Have a Petition in Circulation.

Residents of South Wayne, in the vicinity of South Broadway, are determined in their efforts to secure street car service for that section of the city, and went on record Thursday evening in decided terms.

The meeting was called for an open-air gathering at Broadway and Park avenue, but the weather proved so cool that an adjournment was taken to Clapesattle & Felts' drug store, where the situation was thoroughly discussed. It was the unanimous decision that any fair proposition ought to be accepted that would give the people a line along South Broadway.

A petition to the traction company and to the city authorities was prepared and fifty-three signatures were affixed at the meeing. The document was then placed in the hands of a circulating committee composed of Messrs. W. S. Wells, A. L. Randall, H. C. Stevens, Herman Lipes, Julius Remus and William Lawson, and it is predicted that practically every resident of that section of the city will sign the request for extension of the service along South Broadway.

Mothers, be sure and use Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. maySeod&w

CLASS FROM HOPE HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL.

Within a few weeks a class of eleven splendidly trained nurses who have completed the course in the training school at Hope hospital, will be graduated with honors, receiving the diploma and badge which attests their competency. Thursday, October 3, has been selected as the date for holding the exercises, which will probably be held at Masonic Temple.

The class as constituted is made up of Miss Ella Jones, Miss Parker, Miss Weaver, Miss Barnhart, Miss Collins, Miss Maude Jones, Miss Cameron, Miss Dustman, Miss Rehorst, Miss Shoemaker and Miss McCully. The program for the commencement exercises is now in course of preparation, but is not completed. It is probable that H. C. Paul will present the badges and administer the obligation to the nurses, while President S. M. Foster will confer the diplomas. There will also be an address by a prominent physician, as well as another by a layman. The Haydn quartet, Mrs. S. C. Moffat and others will be invited to contribute to the musical program.

TO REORGANIZE BANK.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Wm. N. Cromwell, attorney; E. K. Stello, Edwin Gould, W. H. Taylor, R. W. Jones, jr., R. Thomas and Horace Raynor, receiver, representing the reorganization committee of the failed Seventh National bank of New York, had a two hours' conference today with Mr. Kane, the deputy comptroller of the currency. The plan of reorganization, which was submitted in writing, will be passed upon by Comptroller Dawes upon his return from Buffalo. The plan involves paying off all of the indebtedness of the bank and resuming business with a capital of $1,700,000, which, it is said, has all been subscribed and paid in. It also involves a new board of directors and an entirely new staff of executive officers.

SPECIAL SALES

Seems to be a fad these days among furniture stores, and it is odd to note the different ways concerns regard statements they make in print. The Fort Wayne club left this morning for Grand Rapids, where it is hoped they will render a good account of themselves. The locals should be pretty safely anchored in fourth place, although with Dayton and Grand Rapids staring them hard in the face there is no cinch on breaking even for the balance of the season. Wheeling, on the other hand, has rather easy picking. Dayton won its fifteenth straight game yesterday and is still coming.

OTHER ASSOCIATION GAMES

DAYTON, 4; MARION, 1.

Dayton, Ohio, Sept. 13.—Dayton made it fifteen straight in the game played here yesterday morning, instead of afternoon, on account of the county fair. Marion was the victim of good stick work when hits meant runs. Score:

NOURISHMENT DISCONTINUED.

Toward 1 o'clock the Associated Press was definitely informed that the physicians had practically discontinued the administration of nourishment, as the rectum is much irritated and does not retain the enemas. Only a small amount of nourishment is consequently retained. The president is very weak and the heart trouble is not thoroughly understood.

It was in the belief that Drs. Johnston and Janeway might be of service in elucidating the exact trouble that they were sent for. They are both expected tonight.

The bulletin issued by Secretary Cortelyou dated 12:30 o'clock was not signed by the physicians. The secretary himself explained that the physicians did not desire to disturb their patient's sleep to take temperature and pulse. The bulletin officially confirmed the unofficial statements which have come from the Milburn residence that the president is holding his own.

Dr. Wasdin was the first of the physicians to return to the Milburn house for the 2 o'clock consultation.

WAS STILL ASLEEP.

At half past 1 o'clock the president was still asleep and the heart action was sufficiently strong to justify the doctors in not awakening him for treatment. Up to that hour no other treatment than saline solution injections and a very light dose of digitalis had been administered.

The physicians are practically agreed that the test will come tonight and they are hopeful that they can bring him through that critical period.

Dr. Wasdin was joined at the president's bedside at 12:40 by Dr. Mann and Dr. Stockton. They had not been summoned, but had come for the usual conference.

At 2 o'clock the physicians assembled were notified by Secretary Cortelyou that Dr. McBurney, who left the city yesterday, had started back and would arrive here at 7:30 tonight.

CAUSED EXCITEMENT.

A few minutes after 2 o'clock Dr. Stockton, who was called in the case yesterday, came hurriedly out of the house and jumped into an automobile. He said: "I cannot talk; I am in a hurry." He was on his way to Dr. Mann's office and said he would be back very soon.

Dr. Stockton returned in about fifteen minutes with a formidable looking leather traveling bag, evidently containing some more appliances or instruments.

At 2:45 p. m. Colonel Alexander, with a smile, announced a slight improvement. He said: "The bulletin is coming. The president is better."

AFTER ROOSEVELT.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Wm. Loeb, jr., private secretary to Vice President Roosevelt, left here for North Creek at 9:45 a. m. on a special train on the Delaware and Hudson railroad to bring the vice president to the city. The news of the change for the worse in the president's condition was telegraphed to North Creek early this morning, and a man started for the Tohawus club camp, where the vice president is staying.

Mr. Loeb stated, just before starting, that the vice president would come to this city as quickly as possible and remain here as long as his presence in Buffalo is required.

North Creek, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Vice President Roosevelt is stopping at the Tohawus club, twelve miles beyond the reach of telephone or telegraph. Couriers have been sent to reach him. Dr. Edward Janeway, of New York, is at St. Hubert's Inn and has been telegraphed for by Secretary Cortelyou and he has started for Buffalo.

COURIERS AFTER HIM.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Messengers with dispatches for Vice President Roosevelt reached the Tohawus club house late this afternoon, having ridden at top speed ten miles from the nearest telephone station. Mr. Roosevelt had gone hunting early this morning with several guides. As soon as the couriers made known their news, special parties of guides and others plunged into the wilderness to find the vice president.

The special train intended for the use of Vice President Roosevelt, which left Albany at 9:45 and rushed through Saratoga at 10:50 a. m., reached the North Creek, the terminus of the Adirondack railway, about 12:15 p. m. The train will there await the arrival of Mr. Roosevelt. It is doubtful if he can reach North Creek and take the train before 4 or 5 p. m.

The trail of Vice President Roosevelt and his guide had not been found up to 2 o'clock this afternoon. Guides were still searching in all directions.

A SHOCK TO WASHINGTON.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The untoward news from the president's bedside came upon Washington with almost as great a shock as was caused by the first report of the murderous attack upon him. Secretary Hay was among the first notified of the turn for the worse in the early morning and he considered for a moment whether or not he should hasten to Buffalo. He decided not to do so, but to remain on guard at the national capital ready to meet here any emergency that might arise. This decision was in line with an understanding reached between the cabinet members in Buffalo, when it was determined that the secretary of state should await a summons from his colleagues before returning to Buffalo. Therefore the secretary came to his office early and after putting himself in communication with the white house and thence with the Milburn house at Buffalo, sat anxiously scanning the bulletins that came in and awaiting any call that might be made upon him. He looked worn and nervous and anxious to the last degree, but withal he maintained his usual calm demeanor and proceeded with the discharge of his routine duties, among the first of which was the reception of the Chinese minister, who called in great agitation to express his deep concern and sympathy.

Postmaster General Smith arrived here at 9 o'clock today from Buffalo. Until early this morning he had no intimation of the president's changed condition. He hurried to the white house, accompanied by Senator McComas, of Maryland. After glancing over the dispatches received there, Mr. Smith announced that he would probably leave for Buffalo on the first train.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Trading on the board of trade was almost at a standstill today because of the general depression of the news from Buffalo. December wheat opened fairly steady, ½@⅝c lower on the news at 70¼c to 70⅛c. There was a liberal offering by the local trade, but fair commission house buying at the opening decline tended to firm up the market a trifle and at the end of the first hour it stood at 70⅜c, having touched momentarily at 70⅜@½c. Local receipts were 135 cars, 9 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 1,000, making a total for the three points of 1,114 cars, against 1,030 last week and 815 a year ago.

Wheat weakened a trifle till December touched 70c at one time and closed at 70⅛c asked.

Corn opened weak and lower on cables and unfavorable news of the president's condition. There were heavy offerings which were poorly taken. December opening ⅝c to ¾c lower at 57 to 56¾c. There was a scattering demand around 56⅞@57c and a good deal sold at the opening, but it found its way to the pit again. At the end of the first hour the price was about unchanged. Receipts were 211 cars.

December corn continued weak during the session and closed about unchanged at 56⅞@57c.

Oats were steady and held well. December opened ¼c under yesterday at 35⅛c and tended to be easy with other markets. Trade was light but the price firmed up to 35⅜c. Receipts were 112 cars.

Provisions opened 2½c to 10c lower in spite of higher hogs and inclined easily. The trade was light and prices in sympathy with the rest of the market. Trading was mostly for the January product. January pork opened 10c under yesterday, at $15.70 and stayed there. January lard was 2½c under at $8.00 and January ribs 5c to 7½c under at $8.07½, but steadied at $8.10.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close are as follows:

Wheat—Sept., 67⅞c; Oct., 68½@⅝c; Dec., 70⅛c; May, 73¾c.

Corn—Sept., 55c; Oct., 55⅛c; Dec., 56⅞@57c; May, 58½c.

Oats—Sept., 34⅛c; Dec., 35⅛@⅜c; May, 37½@⅝c.

Pork—Sept., $14.62½; Oct., $14.72½; Jan., $15.75; May, $15.90.

Lard—Sept., $8.42½; Oct., $8.42½; Nov., $8.37½; Dec., $8.20; Jan., $8.12½@8.15; May, $8.15.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Cattle—Receipts 25,000, including 425 Texans; strictly choice, steady; all others, 10c lower; good to prime steers, $6.00@6.40; poor to medium, $4.00@5.70; stockers and feeders, $2.75@4.25; cows, $2.50@4.60; heifers, $2.00@4.75; canners, $1.50@2.40; bulls, $2.25@4.75; calves, $3.00@6.00; Texas fed steers, $3.00@4.50; western steers, $3.75@5.25.

Hogs—Receipts 14,000; tomorrow 12,000; left over, 3,850; 5c to 10c higher; mixed and butchers, $6.15@6.75; good to choice, heavy, $6.50@6.95; rough, heavy, $6.00@6.45; light, $6.10@6.55; bulk of sales, $6.30@6.50.

BUTTER, CHEESE AND EGGS.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Butter—Firm; creameries, 14@20c; dairies, 13@17c.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 13.—Conditions were nervous and excited in the financial district this morning before the stock market opened, and the wide declines in the London market gave an index of what might be expected at the opening here, as a result of the president's relapse. The first transactions showed sentiment demoralized and blocks of 1,000 to 6,000 shares were thrown on the market at the opening and further sales of equal volume followed each other in quick succession in the downward grade of prices. St. Paul, Union Pacific, United States Steel stocks and Amalgamated Copper were most acutely affected, St. Paul dropping suddenly 6 points on a wide opening at 157 to 155 as the price of the stock. Union Pacific's loss was 5⅛ within the first few minutes and Amalgamated Copper 4½; Eastfield pfrd 3, Atchison 3¼, Brooklyn Transit 5¾, Erie 3⅛, New York Central 3¼, Rock Island 5, Tennessee Coal 4, United States Steel stocks 2⅜ each and the principal active stocks as a rule 2 to 3 points. There were some light momentary rallies, but the market continued excited and feverish.

Trading was highly sensitive and although the lowest prices were made within a few minutes of the opening, the substantial rallies of from 1 to 2 points were not well held, owing to renewed heavy liquidation. Inside interests supported various stocks, but the readiness with which prices gave way when any large amount of stocks were offered discouraged long buying. Toward 11 o'clock the entire list was running off again and such leaders as sugar, Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper fell below opening figures. There was another decrease in activity, but prices were softening and unstable.

The general selling increased during the second hour, and prices gave way all around. Low prices were made by many prominent stocks, with the selling of Amalgamated Copper, the Pacifics and Grangers unusually large. The United States Steel stocks were also offered freely, the common declining below 41. Extreme losses extended to 6 in Rock Island and Great Northern pfrd, 5 or over in Amalgamated Copper, St. Paul, Delaware and Hudson, and 8½ in General Electric.

Bonds were very weak for speculative issues.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

New York, Sept. 13.—Flour—Receipts 28,730 bbls; sales, 4,270 pkgs; state and western, steady on choice spring grades, but dull otherwise.

Wheat—Receipts 100,700 bushels; sales, 885,000 bushels; opened lower owing to the unfavorable news as to the president's condition; rallied on absence of Argentine shipments, but again eased off; Sept., 74¼@5-16c; Oct., 73⅝@74c; Dec., 75¾@76⅛c; May, 79⅞@⅞c.

Rye—Steady; state, 55@56 c. i. f. New York car lots; No. 2 western, 60½ f. o. b. afloat.

A FIGHT IN SIGHT

PENNSYLVANIA WILL OPPOSE SOUTHWESTERN LINE.

CROSSING NELSON STREET

WILL GO TO THE LIMIT IN THE COURTS.

WILL CONSIDER NEW ROUTE

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

The board of works met last evening in regular session and held a protracted meeting. The Southwestern Traction company appeared by its attorney, H. D. Doughman, and General Manager Nelson, and presented a request for a change of route. The company was notified yesterday by the Pennsylvania railroad officials that that company would contest the right of the traction company to cross its tracks at Nelson street, as it had asked to do. The statute books contain a law which gives to traction companies the right to condemn a right of way across railroad tracks, but the law has never been tested and the Pennsylvania company has indicated that it will carry the case to the court of last resort before it will surrender. This would mean protracted litigation, which the Southwestern people cannot afford, as they are desirous of entering the city at once and had expected to have its city tracks laid within a few weeks. The company suggested a route extending east on Baker street, from Fairfield avenue to Harrison, and thence north on Harrison to Pearl. The company agreed to pay for its proportion of the paving of Baker street, which was done a year ago, and refund the money so paid back to the property owners, and, in fact, was willing to agree to any sort of a proposition which would give them an entrance to the city by the route designated. No decision was reached, but the board agreed to give the matter immediate attention and take it up formally at a very early date.

Charles McCulloch also appeared before the board with a request to have some changes made in the specifications of the South Wayne sewer. He stated that in some places the two-ring brick work called for by the specifications is insufficient to meet the requirements of the work, owing to the composition of the soil. Where only two-ring work was put in in some places the sewer collapsed and was washed away and that owing to the large quantity of quicksand encountered a stronger arch will have to be put in in order to make the sewer durable. The cost of strengthening the sewer is estimated to incur an additional cost of about $2.68 a foot on such parts as will need strengthening and this added to the total cost would scarcely be felt and would not amount to over $1 a lot when distributed. The board admitted that the increase would be little and would not be objected to by those who understood it; but the trouble would be to get everybody to understand it, especially right now, when there is so much dissatisfaction and misunderstanding in relation to the intercepting sewer. The board also said that it was not certain as to its rights in the matter, but would submit it to City Attorney Shambaugh for a written opinion. Other business was transacted and the following petitions were granted:

East side property owners, for sidewalks on the west side of Fletcher avenue, from Maumee avenue to Pioneer avenue; Julius Remus, to build under private contract, sidewalks on Grant avenue; Charles Schreck, to build under private contract sidewalks in Hamilton's fourth addition; George Wilhelm, to build under private contract sidewalks on Spring street. The bond of George Wilhelm, licensed sewer builder, was approved. Plans were ordered for grading the alley between Putnam street and Archer avenue, from Short street to Hench street.

OTHER CITY HALL NOTES.

The special council committee investigating the intercepting sewer assessments is hard at work and continued at it labors until nearly midnight last night. They expect to have a report ready in a few days, which, when prepared, will be made public. Meantime the members of the committee remain quiet as oysters.

There was quite a rush at the comptroller's office today and Comptroller Fox says that if the people keep on coming tomorrow as they did today there will be no difficulty in taking care of everybody desiring to bond by tomorrow night. Tomorrow will positively be the last day to sign for bonds and no extension can be granted, the limit being fixed by law, over which the comptroller has no control, and he is left without any discretionary power, no matter how anxious he might be to oblige.

Street Commissioner Franke is confined to his home by illness and his deputy, Peter Hohnhaus, has been ill for over a week.

John H. Meyer has been granted a permit to erect three houses on Third street at a cost of $1,500 each.

MAINS-ROBBINS.

At the Simpson M. E. parsonage Wednesday evening, Rev. Patterson united in marriage Miss Laura Robbins and Frank Mains. After the ceremony the bridal party adjourned to the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mains, where an elaborate wedding repast was partaken of, the guests being a number of the relatives and friends of the young people. The bride is a charming young lady from Roanoke and has a large circle of friends in this city. The groom is a well known railroad man, now holding a position as engineer at the state institution. Miss Mary Robbins, of Roanoke, a sister of the bride, was the only out of town guest.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE

The grand jury has little hope of being able to finish its labors this week. The Dunn case is still occupying most of the time.

Lizzie Groves was this morning granted a divorce from Elijah E. Groves. Judge Aiken made the decree.

The case of Herman Gleitz vs. the Volute Nut Lock company has been consolidated with the case of Mossman vs. the same concern, and the joint issues have been set for trial September 16.

In the case of Welten vs. Welten, a divorce was granted in 1898. Today nunc pro tunc entry of the case was made in the superior court.

Edward A. Ross-Lewin has commenced suit against the school city of Fort Wayne on contract, for unpaid salary; demand, $200. Mr. Ross-Lewin was formerly superintendent of the public school buildings.

Mrs. Ida Ormiston, whose husband was fined in France's court for beating her, has filed proceedings for divorce, alleging failure to provide, drunkenness and cruelty.

Francis M. Howe sues Martha J. Johnson et al., on foreclosure and note; demand, $1,000.

Judge Adair is sitting as special judge in the circuit court to hear the case of Vordermark vs. Wilkinson, an old case that has been on the docket from time almost immemorial.

BIG ENGINE SHAFT

CHANGE AT ELECTRIC WORKS

GEORGE DE WALD QUITS TO GO TO MONTPELIER.

The longest, if not the largest, rolling mill engine shaft ever built at the Bass works is being loaded at that institution today for shipment to Parkersburg, W. Va., where it will be placed in the mills of the Parkersburg Steel and Iron company. This shaft is twenty-seven and a half feet long and it weighs 75,000 pounds. It will take a forty-ton car to carry it. The Bass company, as the reader is probably already informed, is building the machinery for an immense steam plant for the Parkersburg people and a good portion of the material and machinery has already been delivered.

SPECIAL RATES GRANTED.

Trotting Horse Breeders' association, Lexington, Ky., October 8 to 18.

CHANGE AT ELECTRIC WORKS.

George DeWald, for some time employed in the laboratory at the electric works, resigned this morning for the purpose of accepting a more responsible and lucrative position in the electric lighting plant at Montpelier, Ind. He will go to that city tomorrow to be ready to assume the duties of his new position Monday. David McNutt, also of the laboratory, tendered his resignation to become effective today. He will resume his studies in Wabash college, Crawfordsville, next week. Christian Kaiser and E. B. Potter, machinists, took positions with Foreman C. F. Knothe this morning, and Herman Goller, a blacksmith, took a position in that department. Some of the machinery has already been placed in the new addition to the works and preparations are under way for the installation of other machines next week.

DYNAMO SHIPMENTS.

A car load of dynamo machinery will leave the Fort Wayne Electric works this evening for Clarksdale, Miss., where the company is about to install a plant. Other shipments from the works included a big switchboard outfit to the Baltic Mining company, of Houghton, Mich. Early next week the company will ship a 1,200-light incandescent machine to B. E. Dwinell, of Amherst, Wis. Mr. Dwinell, accompanied by A. M. Pattez, a consulting engineer from Milwaukee, was in the city today, closing the deal. They were guests of Williard Knight.

LABORERS CONTINUE SCARCE.

Contractor H. W. Tapp, who has numerous contracts with the Pennsylvania company in the way of putting in bridge abutments, finds his work greatly delayed by an insufficiency of laborers. Mr. Tapp, not being able to get men here, went down on the Panhandle lines early in the week in the hopes that he would be able to find them there. He says the situation is even worse there than here. The farmers are busy cutting corn now and no relief from that source can be expected for awhile.

PITTSBURG ENGINE OUTPUT.

An engine a day was the record of the present week at the Pittsburg repair shops in this city. The engines repaired and turned over to service were Nos. 157, 267, 165, 86, 336 and 116, all of which received general repairs. No. 267, the first class X engine built in the Fort Wayne shops, was distinguished in 1893 by pulling a train load of notable foreigners to the world's fair, included in the party being Baron Fava, then minister of Italy.

CINDER PIT IMPROVEMENTS.

Excavation is now in progress at the Wabash roundhouse for a depressed track at the side of the new cinder pit, upon which cars can be conveniently placed for loading cinders. This is an improvement that will greatly facilitate the handling of cinders, which will be a very important item when the New Haven-Butler road is finished and all the Wabash trains pass through the city. At present cinders are carried from the pit in wheelbarrows and dumped on the flats back of the roundhouse.

WABASH PAY DAY.

Notices were this morning posted on the shop and depot bulletin boards of the Wabash, stating that the pay car would arrive in this city on Saturday, September 28. The shops were very busy during August and the amount of money distributed among the men will be correspondingly large.

RETURNED TO OLD EMPLOYER.

Henry Gebhard is again an employe of the Pennsylvania company, after working in the electric light works for several months. He commenced work this morning in the machine shop. His former service with the Pennsylvania was in the capacity of engineer in the electric power station.

WILL BE ON EXHIBITION.

No. 808, the big Atlantic type passenger engine recently received by the Wabash and described in these columns last Wednesday, will be at the depot tomorrow, in order that all railroad men who desire to examine it can have that opportunity. Another engine of this type is expected here tonight.

TWO SHOPMEN HURT.

WILL RETURN TO COLLEGE.

M. C. Wright, machinist, resigned his position at the Wabash shops this afternoon and will leave tomorrow for Dupauw university, where he will resume his studies in the classical course. This will be Mr. Wright's second term at that university.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

A. Herr is attending a funeral and John E. Smith and Otto Schlink are sick. They are Pittsburg shopmen.

Mr. Logan, at the head of the Wabash Paper company, is in the city today, on business with the Bass company.

Mrs. Bennett, wife of E. Bennett, of the Pittsburg pattern shop, is quite sick and that gentleman is detained at home in consequence.

Leo Schirmeyer, clerk in the Wabash boiler shop, went to Chicago last night, to remain until Monday morning, the guest of friends.

G. Bowser and F. E. Lenz, Pittsburg firemen, reported for work this morning, after a few days' absence on account of private business.

George Buehrle has taken a position as fireman on the Nickel Plate and has been assigned to extra work, with Bellevue for headquarters.

E. W. Dartnell, assistant shop clerk of the Pittsburg, is on duty again, after an illness extending over a period of four of five weeks. He is still quite weak.

Engineer John O'Ryan and Assistant Foreman F. J. Mannix, of the Pittsburg machine shops, will leave tomorrow for Buffalo and Niagara Falls, where they expect to spend about ten days.

D. Benjamin, of the Bass blacksmith shop, has gone to Michigan on private business. John Cole, of the same shop, has gone to the country for a visit of a few days.

P. J. Hanley and August Bandelier, of the Pensylvania coal docks, the former the foreman, accompanied by their wives, are in Cleveland attending the Grand Army encampment.

M. S. Conners, general superintendent of the Toledo and Ohio Central and the Hocking Valley, was once a telegraph operator on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton road, with headquarters at Indianapolis.

All the Cleveland roads have joined in the movement against scalpers. Yesterday they made application to the common pleas court for an injunction restraining forty ticket brokers in Cleveland from selling Grand Army encampment return tickets.

On account of the heavy travel occasioned by the encampment homeward movement the Nickel Plate trains are more or less behind schedule time nowadays. No 1 yesterday was three hours late in reaching this city. She had three extra coaches.

The duke of Cornwall, on his coming trip through Canada and the British possessions, will ride in the most magnificent car ever turned out of the shops of Barney & Smith, at Dayton. The car has been sent to Halifax, from which point the duke will start upon his journey.

The Pennsylvania company will discontinue the Mackinaw sleeping car runs from Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis, to take effect on Thursday, September 26, and the last car for the season will leave those points on that date. Returning, the last through sleeping car from Mackinaw to Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis will leave Mackinaw on Saturday, September 28.

The marriage of Harry E. Rouzer, son of Cassius Rouzer, of Boone street, and Miss Edna Hale, occurred at 8 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's parents, near Bellevue. Mr. and Mrs. Rouzer left today for Buffalo, where they will spend a week, and then go to the seashore for a short stay. They will come here for a visit with the groom's parents in three or four weeks. Harry Rouzer is a passenger brakeman on the Nickel Plate road, with headquarters in Bellevue.

Sparrows cause considerable annoyance to the railway men by building nests in the spouts at the water stands along the lines. An engineer said last evening that in an hour or two in the mornings these industrious little birds would pile a half bushel of straw, strings and like material into the spout in an attempt to build a nest and that this stuff was carried into the tank when the water was drawn and sometimes filled up the screen over the pipe leading to the engine boiler.

President George Stevens, of the Chesapeake and Ohio, his family and some friends, who have been upon an extensive pleasure tour, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Rabus and other friends for a few hours last evening. Mr. Stevens came down from Grand Rapids in his private car and remained here until today, when he left for Cincinnati. Before the Wabash moved the division to Peru, Mr. Stevens was employed as a train dispatcher and resided in this city. Later he became division superintendent, but held that office only a short time, when he was called to the Chesapeake and Ohio to assume a more responsible position.

THE DEATHS AND FUNERALS

VINING.

Miss Carrie Vining, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Vining, of St. Joe township, died at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening at the family residence, three miles northeast of the city, from diphtheria, at the age of 39 years, 4 months and 7 days.

Funeral services were held from the residence at 2 o'clock this afternoon and were private. The interment was at Lindenwood.

BRAMER.

Mr. Bramer, a well known resident of Maumee township, died Thursday at his home east of Woodburn, at the age of fifty years. His wife died a short time ago.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Gotsch.—Funeral services of Mrs. Louise Gotsch will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 147 East Lewis street, and at 2:15 from St. aul's Lutheran church.

BASE BALL NOTES.

The Shamrocks will leave over the Nickel Plate Sunday morning at 1:55 for Tiffin, Ohio, where they play in the afternoon.

President Meyer has ruled that the two games forfeited to Wheeling by Toledo do not count. That makes Fort Wayne's place in the first division a little more secure.

Third Baseman Hickey, who was signed by Chicago, has been playing an indifferent game and President Hart announces that he will be released. Hickey jumped the Matthews team a few weeks ago.

Several of the big league managers are after Pitcher Wright, of Dayton. But they don't want to pay for him and will wait until the national agreement expires, when he can be secured without expense.

The Terre Haute team, winners of the cup in the Three-I league race, quits the race with an enviable record. During the entire season not one of the Terre Haute players has been fined, or benched, or even reprimanded by the management. How many Western association teams will close the season with that record?

Messrs. F. A. Baker & Co.,
Evansville, Wis.

White Lead and Zinc White combined, 91.83 per cent. Lead Sulphate, 1.25 per cent. Pigment for producing color, 6.31 per cent.

The lead sulphate is produced in the process of the manufacture of white lead, and is always present in a commercially pure white lead, and hence should be reckoned as a part of the product.

Respectfully yours,
W. W. DANIELS.

CLOSE FRIENDS AT THE HOUSE.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13.—8:51 p. m.—President McKinley is dead. Late this afternoon he had another sinking spell, from which he could not be rallied and died at 8:50.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13.—The sinking spell in which the president died came this afternoon shortly after the physicians' bulletin had given fresh hope.

BURST INTO TEARS.

Shortly after 5:15 Secretary Root came from the Milburn house and as he spoke to the newspaper men he burst into tears. A few minutes later Colonel Brown, a close friend of of the president, came out, and in a broken tone announced: "The president is very, very bad," and then he, too, cried.

Dr. Stockton next appeared. It was then learned that the heart had begun to fail again and that as the last resort oxygen was being tried.

DESPERATE CONDITION.

At 5:45 the official bulletin was given out. It was dated 5:15, and it showed by the respiration the desperate condition of the patient. The respiration was 40 and it told that the oxygen treatment was not having any effect upon the weak heart.

By 6 o'clock carriages containing relatives and personal friends were driven up to the house. Senator Hanna, Captain and Mrs. McWilliams, and Mrs. Herrick were among those who arrived.

PRESIDENT THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

The Death of William McKinley Makes Him by Virtue of the Constitution President of the United States.

At 4:40 Secretary Cortelyou came across the street to the press tents and gave out the following bulletin:

"Official Bulletin—4 p. m.—The president's physicians report that he is only slightly improved since the last bulletin. The pulse and temperature remain the same as at that hour."

The secretary, in response to questions, merely said:

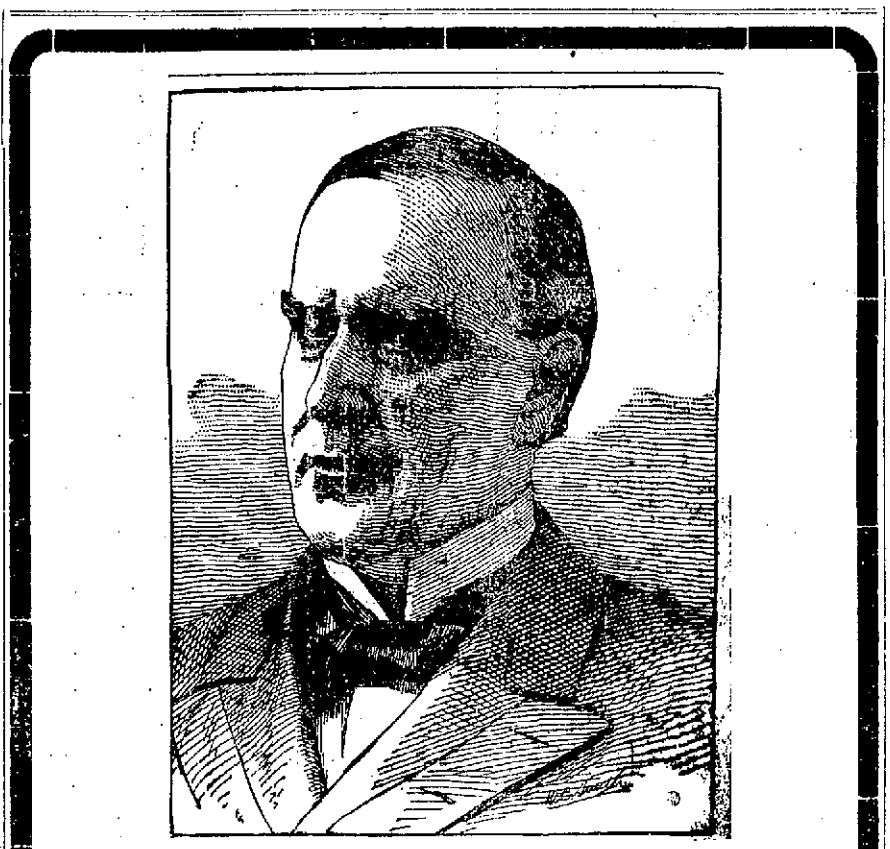
"He is very, very weak."

PHYSICIANS HASTILY SUMMONED.

At 5:58 the president's physicians were hastily summoned to the patient's bedside. The president had had another sinking spell and those about him seem to realize that the end could not be far off.

At 5:48 so critical had the president's condition become that the members of his family and those intimate personal friends who have been closest to him in social and official life were summoned to the Milburn residence.

At 6:30 it was announced that the president did not respond to the oxygen that was being administered and his physicians announced that unless he shortly did respond to the treatment his death could be a matter of but brief time. At the same hour Secretary Cortelyou issued the following statement:



WILLIAM M'KINLEY,

"The president's physicians report that his condition is most serious in spite of vigorous stimulation. The depression continues and is profound. Unless it can be relieved the end is only a question of time.

"George B. Cortelyou.

"Secretary to the President."

HOPE STRUGGLED AGAINST FEAR THROUGHOUT THE DREARY DAY

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13. The dread end which came this evening had been feared since last evening, when the acute turn for the worse took place.

President McKinley began to sink shortly after 2 o'clock this morning after a critical period of twelve hours, in which alarm and hope mingled in the emotions of those who surrounded him. The trouble began on the preceding afternoon through the failure of the digestive organs to perform their functions.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the physicians and nurses detected a weakening of the heart action. The pulse fluttered and weakened and the president sank toward collapse. The end appeared to be at hand. Restoratives were speedily applied and the physicians fought the battle with the reserve force of science.

Action was immediate and decisive. Digitalis and strychnine were administers and as a last resort a saline solution was injected into the veins. A general alarm went speeding to the consulting physicians and trained nurses as fast as messengers, the telegraph and telephone could it. The restoratives did not at once prove effective and it was realized that the president was in an extremely critical condition. That realization with the shadow of death beside it led to another call, and that a summons to the cabinet, relatives and close personal friends of the president. The messengers who returned with the doctors and nurses were hurried off after those within reach, and to those who were absent from the city telegrams conveying the painful tidings were quickly transmitted by telegraph.

THE FIRST ILL NEWS.

A messenger who darted into the rain and was whicked away in an electric cab gave the outside watchers the first intimation of the ill news from within. At the same moment new lights were burning within the windows of the Milburn residence. Soon the word was passed out that the president had partially collapsed and was critically ill. It was a confession hardly needed, for the fact had been established by action that needed no words.

The newspaper correspondents who had already sent warnings of a serious change in the president's condition rushed to the improvised telegraph offices with the first bulletin. An automobile racing at top speed brought Dr. Mynter.

LITTLE ENCOURAGEMENT.

The physicians after their consultation and the examination of the patient could offer little encouragement.

He was very weak and his heart was so feeble that they feared lest his life might go out at any time.

The little coterie below stairs watched the clock tick away the minutes and hours, perhaps the life of the president, without a word of encouragement until 4 o'clock, when the president rallied slightly. The saline solution which saved Mrs. McKinley's life in San Francisco had proved in a measure effective. It was given the president shortly after the sinking spell began.

MRS. M'KINLEY NOT TOLD.

During the whole dreadful night Mrs. McKinley knew nothing of the sudden change that had come. She slept peacefully in her room through it all.

At 5:30 Secretary Wilson came out looking haggard and dejected.

"The president has a fighting chance," said he. The tone of his words sounded like the expression of a forlorn hope.

No word came out of the Milburn residence for almost an hour after Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock had left. The bulletin usually issued at 6:30 was omitted. Dr. Rixey at 7:30 told the representatives of the Associated Press that he felt slightly encouraged.

"The president has rallied somewhat," said he, "but then you know," he added, "the president is usually better in the morning."

EXTRAS WERE ISSUED.

The Buffalo papers all had extras with the sad intelligence of the president's relapse on the streets at daylight. One paper announced that the president was dying. The result was that the whole city was thoroughly aroused and alarmed early, and before 7 o'clock crowds of people flocked in the direction of the Milburn house to learn if the latest news was not more reassuring. They stood at the ropes far down the intersecting streets and waited patiently for the appearance of the morning bulletin. Many of them refused to credit the news of the president's sudden change for the worse, until they had learned by word of mouth from the sentries of the president's are among the best known of the many dangerous wild plants and shrubs. To touch or handle them quickly produces swelling and inflammation with intense itching and burning of the skin. The eruption soon disappears, the sufferer hopes forever; but almost as soon as the little blisters and pustules appeared the poison had reached the blood, and will break out at regular intervals and each time in a more aggravated form. This poison will loiter in the system for years, and every atom of it must be forced out of the blood before you can expect a perfect, permanent cure.

SSS Nature's Antidote FOR Nature's Poisons, is the only cure for Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, and all noxious plants. It is composed exclusively of roots and herbs. Now is the time to get the poison out of your system, as delay makes your condition worse. Don't experiment longer with salves, washes and soaps—they never cure.

Mr. S. M. Marshall, bookkeeper of the Atlanta (Ga.) Gas Light Co., was poisoned with Poison Oak. He took Sulphur, Arsenic and various other drugs, and applied externally numerous lotions and salves with no benefit. At times the swelling and inflammation was so severe he was almost blind. For eight years the poison would break out every season. His condition was much improved after taking one bottle of S. S. S., and a few bottles cleared his blood of the poison, and all evidences of the disease disappeared.

People are often poisoned without knowing when or how. Explain your case fully to our physicians, and they will cheerfully give such information and advice as you require, without charge, and we will send at the same time an interesting book on Blood and Skin Diseases.

THE PRESIDENT IS DEAD.

The first person to arrive for the morning consultation was Dr. Wasdin, who drove up in his buggy at 8:15. He passed quickly into the Milburn residence.

"I have been absent for a couple of hours," said he, "and I do not know the condition of the president. I hope he is better."

ABNER M'KINLEY THERE.

Two minutes later Abner McKinley walked down to the corner to tell his coachman, who had been waiting for him with a carriage for an hour, that he would not go to his hotel for breakfast. He then returned to the Milburn residence.

Dr. Mann came up in an automobile two minutes later. "I have nothing to say now," he said, in reply to a question as he passed into the roped enclosure to the house. The new detail for guard duty for today arrived from Fort Porter a few minutes later. The guard was changed and the sentries posted for the day. Lieut. Chas. N. Murphy was the new officer in charge.

Dr. Mynter arrived at 8:23. "I saw the president at 5 o'clock," said he. "His condition was then very grave."

After he entered the house Abner McKinley, Dr. Baer, the president's nephew by marriage, and Mr. Milburn came out of the house and stood in conversation on the lawn. Mr. McKinley was smoking a cigar. He received and read a telegram and then turned to his companions and showed it to them.

HURRIED AWAY.

While they were talking together Col. W. C. Brown, of New York, and Lieutenant McKinley came out of the house and after a hurried conference with Abner McKinley, they hastened to the corner, where an automobile was in waiting. "The president is a little better," said Colonel Brown, as he directed the chauffeur to go as rapidly as possible to the Lennox. This is the hotel at which Mrs. Abner McKinley and Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock are stopping.

At 8:40 William H. Hengerer, a Buffalo business man, who had called to see Mr. Milburn, said that Mr. Milburn had informed him that there had been some encouragement during the last half hour and it was believed that the president had a fighting chance.

Dr. Park did not reach the house until 8:35 o'clock, being the last of the physicians to arrive for the morning consultation.

A CRANK APPEARS.

At 8:50, while the consultation was going on inside, and old lady, who was plainly a crank, approached the inner rope and insisted upon being admitted. She said she desired to see Mrs. McKinley: "I have something important to say to her," she said. One of the secret service men kindly led her aside and listened to her long story of how she proposed to cure the president by means of her prayers.

A stream of callers began arriving early. Several of the foreigners connected with the exposition arrived to inquire about the president's condition. All callers were met at the door by Mr. Milburn, who informed them that the President had rallied fairly well. Major Symmons, of the army, one of the callers, said he had been informed that the president was a very, very sick man.

A RARE FIGHTING CHANCE.

"But the physicians say he has a bare fighting chance," said he.

Secretaries Hitchcock and Wilson, who left the house about 5 o'clock this morning, returned in an electric cab at 9:20. They stopped on the lawn to speak to Abner McKinley before entering the house.

At 9:30 the scene about the Milburn residence was one that will live in the memory of those who witnessed it as long as life lasts. Down the streets in every direction people were massed hundreds deep, while at the corner, where the headquarters of the press are located, correspondents of all the leading journals of the world were waiting ready to flash the first news far as the wires reach, while within the tents the busy telegraph instruments were clicking off the sad intelligence. In front of the residence the blue coated soldiers paced with arms at right shoulder. All were waiting, waiting, almost breathlessly, for the news.

The doctors finished their consultation at 9:40. They left the house together and stopped for a few minutes on the lawn to convey their verdict first to the president's brother. Chaplain Sykes, of the navy, in his black vestments, who had come to inquire after the president's health, lifted his hat as the men upon whom the president's life depends passed him.

DOCTORS LOOKED GRAVE.

The physicians looked serious as they walked away from the residence. Dr. Mann and Dr. Mynter came away together. "We are very anxious," said Dr. Mann, "very anxious," he repeated, as he entered the carriage in waiting.

"Have you given up hope?"

"By no means," replied the doctor.

"Is he better than when you saw him last?"

"He is better than he was in the early hours of the morning," he responded as he directed the coachman to drive away.

LITTLE ENCOURAGEMENT.

Dr. Mynter had little encouragement to offer.

"I am not absolutely without hope," said he. "The president has a fighting chance, but I would be more hopeful if the day were passed and he had gained a little strength. He has improved some since early this morning, but the improvement is very slight. The trouble lies with his heart. We are stimulating it and our treatment has been fairly successful."

Dr. Mynter admitted that saline solution and other means to stimulate the action of the heart were being administered.

NOT ABSOLUTELY HOPELESS.

"I will say in answer to your question," replied Dr. Mynter, hesitatingly, "that I do not consider the case absolutely hopeless. I should be more hopeful if the day were passed and it had shown some improvement in his condition."

Dr. Mynter's remarks left the inference that the crisis might be prolonged.

The bulletin which was issued was slightly reassuring and indicated that the crisis might be prolonged, stating definitely that the president's condition had somewhat improved during the past few hours and that there was better response to stimulation. But his pulse was up to 128 and the convictions grew that it was almost a forlorn hope.

It was learned that the physicians had decided it would not be well for Mrs. McKinley to enter the sick room today, both on account of her feeble health and the excitement it might cause the president.

So far as can be learned Mrs. McKinley had not been informed up to 10 o'clock of the grave condition in which her husband was.

RELATIVES ARRIVE.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the intimate friends and relatives of the president, who were telegraphed for early this morning, began to arrive, and soon after 10 o'clock there were assembled in the down stairs rooms of the Milburn house Senators Hanna and Fairbanks, ex-Secretary of State Day, Secretary Wilson and Secretary Hitchcock. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Baer, Abner McKinley, Miss Helen McKinley and Mrs. Duncan, sister of the president, and Mrs. Lafayette McWilliams, in addition to John G. Milburn, former Postmaster General Bissell, John I. Scather, of Buffalo, and Representative Alexander, of the Buffalo district. The latter came from the house and said: "If the president successfully weathers the morning his chances of ultimate recovery will be greatly increased because his condition, other than his heart weakness, is very encouraging."

SENATOR HANNA THERE.

Senator Hanna came on a special train from Cleveland, making the run in the remarkable fast time of three hours. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hanna, Colonel Myron T. Herrick, Miss Barber and a few other friends of the president. He received the news at 4 o'clock this morning and immediately ordered a special train.

All the cabinet officers were telegraphed at 3 o'clock this morning and are now, presumably, on their way hither. Dr. W. W. Johnson, of Washington, who is at Portsmouth, N. H., and Dr. Janeway, of New York, both celebrated heart specialists, have been summoned.

A celebrated heart specialist, who has been watching the bulletins closely, has expressed the opinion that the extreme weakness of the heart is due to the shock of the first bullet, which struck the president's breast bone and now manifesting itself for the first time.

PRESIDENT CONSCIOUS.

The president is perfectly conscious despite his extreme weakness. This morning, when the nurses sought to adjust the pillows so as to shut out the light of the window, the president protested. "No, I want to see the trees," he murmured. "They are so beautiful."

The doctors believe he fully realizes how low he is, although he has not been informed. When Mrs. McKinley was told that it would be better for her not to see him this morning, she assented without protest, but she seemed to realize the full importance of the request, though she said nothing.

Secretary Hitchcock was heartbroken by the sudden dashing down of the high hopes he had held of the president's recovery, but loyally believes and will hope on to the end.

"I refuse to surrender," said he, with great emotion, at 10:30. "I will not give up hope while life remains. I shall hope on and pray on to the end."

A NOTE OF HOPE.

Congressman Alexander at 10:45 gave the most encouraging news of the morning. He said:

"It is not true that the physicians are without hope or that those gathered in the house are despondent. The lowering of the heart action is a natural result of the giving of a cathartic and was expected. It was found that the solid food given yesterday had not passed through the stomach and that a cathartic would have to be given. Then came the reaction. The physicians gave a saline solution, but in very small quantity, and this forenoon used some digitalis, but also in small quantities. They did not want to use any more artificial means than absolutely necessary. The results so far are being observed and the president is now sleeping, watched by Drs. Rixey, Park and Wasdin.

"Everybody about the house is hopeful. The two men who know him best, Secretary Cortelyou and Senator Hanna, are cheerful and as confident as the set-back will allow. They both know his strong will and they think that will help. Drs. Janeway and Johnson have been summoned to take care of the heart action. In other respects the president is doing well."

SAYS THERE IS HOPE.

Rev. Dr. Corwin Wilson, who was once pastor of the First Methodist church of Canton, where the president worshiped for many years, was among those who called at the house during the morning. When he left he said:

"Yes, there is hope for the president. His brother tells me he is making a supreme fight for life. I feel most deeply for the president, for at Canton in by-gone days I was his pastor and truly know his noble character."

Congressman Olmstead was in the Milburn house at 11:10 in company with C. W. Goodyear, of Buffalo. The latter said that the most encouraging phase of the situation was to be found in the hopeful demeanor of those closest to the president. Senator Hanna's confidence and Abner McKinley's sanguine hopes were good.

The senator is quoted as adding:

"The president most certainly has a fighting chance. I still believe he will pull through."

Secretary Cortelyou has refrained from visiting the president's room, and, in fact, nobody but the doctors or the nurses have been in the apartment.

MORE ENCOURAGEMENT.

Ansley Wilcox, who entertained Vice President Roosevelt when he was here, came out of the Milburn house at 11:30 and said:

"So far as I can learn the physicians and those in the Milburn house are very hopeful. Since the early morning the president has improved slightly and even the slightest improvement is more than the physicians had expected."

Dr. Mann was asked this morning to make an authorized statement regarding the president's condition in addition to that contained in the bulletins. This he declined to do, but in response to inquiries he said:

"No, I cannot say anything about any crisis in the case. A patient may continue in the condition the president now is for some time and then pick up or not, just as the case may develop. The president is in a very serious condition, it is true, but it is absurd to say he is dying, as stated by some persons this morning. I cannot make any further statement about the case just now."

MAY BE DUE TO SHOCK.

The suggestion has been made to the physicians that the extremely weakened heart which threatens the president's life may be due to the shock received by him from the bullet which struck the breast bone and glanced off. Dr. McBurney, the well known New York surgeon, who participated in the case early in the week, has advanced this theory and it is possible the latter may be asked to come again to Buffalo for further consultation.

The question as to whether he should be asked to come here was left to the decision of Secretary Cortelyou.

GOVERNOR YATES CALLS.

Governor Yates, of Illinois, and Col. Russell B. Harrison, emerging from the mansion at 11:30, brought the same news, given by early callers, its purport being that the president is not only holding his own, but improving slightly.

Governor Yates held a conversation with Mr. Milburn and was advised that it might be well to postpone until later in the day any program that had been arranged for Illinois day at the exposition.

Mr. Milburn informed the governor that he would be advised later and that if the president continued to rest comfortable, as at present, there would seem to be no reason to entirely abandon the day's program.

WAS HOLDING HIS OWN.

"The president is holding his own. This is all I care to say publicly," the doctor said.

It is learned, however, that at 11 o'clock the attending physicians decided to stop the use of the saline injections as the patient had begun to revive from the extreme depression. It was deemed wise to withhold the saline solution for a possible future sinking spell. The quantity of digitalis was also diminished to ascertain if the president's heart could do without stimulants.

To a representative of the Associated Press Dr. Wasdin said: "I cannot reiterate it too often; the president is holding his own."

"Has he rallied perceptibly, doctor?" was asked.

"Yes, and no," replied the surgeon.

"What does that mean?"

"It simply means," was the answer, "that there are fluctuations. One moment the patient appears to revive, the next the depression returns."

HOPE NOT ABANDONED.

"The physicians have not abandoned hope, have they?" was asked.

"By no manner of means. Again I say there is certainly a fighting chance. At present the condition of the president is not hopeless, but within ten minutes the greatly to be feared moment might come."

"Is it true, doctor, that the saline injections have been stopped?"

"Hardly. Indeed we gave such an injection not long ago. The patient responded, and we are waiting to see if another will be necessary."

Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock followed Dr. Wasdin and went away in an automobile to the Buffalo club. The former said:

SENATOR HANNA HOPES.

Senator Hanna, who was in the house quite a long time, emerged at 12:25 p. m. He walked very slowly and appeared very grave.

"Is there any good news, Senator?" he was asked.

"Well, there is not any good news. I can only say that the president has a fighting chance. I am always hopeful. My faith is strong. I saw a rainbow in the sky as I came up here this morning. I hope it is prophetic."

Senator Fairbanks and Judge Day came out shortly after Senator Hanna departed. They would not discuss the case beyond saying the president was holding his own.

From newspaper quarters Col. Myron T. Herrick entered a carriage and drove up town.

NOURISHMENT DISCONTINUED.

Toward 1 o'clock the Associated Press was definitely informed that the physicians had practically discontinued the administration of nourishment, as the rectum is much irritated and does not retain the enemas. Only a small amount of nourishment is consequently retained. The president is very weak and the heart trouble is not thoroughly understood.

It was in the belief that Drs. Johnston and Janeway might be of service in elucidating the exact trouble that they were sent for. They are both expected tonight.

The bulletin issued by Secretary Cortelyou dated 12:30 o'clock was not signed by the physicians. The secretary himself explained that the physicians did not desire to disturb their patient's sleep to take temperature and pulse. The bulletin officially confirmed the unofficial statements which have come from the Milburn residence that the president is holding his own.

Dr. Wasdin was the first of the physicians to return to the Milburn house for the 2 o'clock consultation.

WAS STILL ASLEEP.

At half past 1 o'clock the president was still asleep and the heart action was sufficiently strong to justify the doctors in not awakening him for treatment. Up to that hour no other treatment than saline solution injections and a very light dose of digitalis had been administered.

The physicians are practically agreed that the test will come tonight and they are hopeful that they can bring him through that critical period.

Dr. Wasdin was joined at the president's bedside at 12:40 by Dr. Mann and Dr. Stockton. They had not been summoned, but had come for the usual conference.

CAUSED EXCITEMENT.

A few minutes after 2 o'clock Dr. Stockton, who was called in the case yesterday, came hurriedly out of the house and jumped into an automobile. He said: "I cannot talk; I am in a hurry." He was on his way to Dr. Mann's office and said he would be back very soon.

Dr. Stockton returned in about fifteen minutes with a formidable looking leather traveling bag, evidently containing some more appliances or instruments.

At 2:45 p. m. Colonel Alexander, with a smile, announced a slight improvement. He said: "The bulletin is coming. The president is better."

AFTER ROOSEVELT.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Wm. Loeb, jr., private secretary to Vice President Roosevelt, left here for North Creek at 9:45 a. m. on a special train on the Delaware and Hudson railroad to bring the vice president to the city. The news of the change for the worse in the president's condition was telegraphed to North Creek early this morning, and a man started for the Tohawus club camp, where the vice president is staying.

Mr. Loeb stated, just before starting, that the vice president would come to this city as quickly as possible and remain here as long as his presence in Buffalo is required.

North Creek, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Vice President Roosevelt is stopping at the Tohawus club, twelve miles beyond the reach of telephone or telegraph. Couriers have been sent to reach him. Dr. Edward Janeway, of New York, is at St. Hubert's Inn and has been telegraphed for by Secretary Cortelyou and he has started for Buffalo.

COURIERS AFTER HIM.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Messengers with dispatches for Vice President Roosevelt reached the Tohowns club house late this afternoon, having ridden at top speed ten miles from the nearest telephone station. Mr. Roosevelt had gone hunting early this morning with several guides. As soon as the couriers made known their news, special parties of guides and others plunged into the wilderness to find the vice president.

The special train intended for the use of Vice President Roosevelt, which left Albany at 9:45 and rushed through Saratoga at 10:50 a. m., reached the North Creek, the terminus of the Adirondack railway, about 12:15 p. m. The train will there await the arrival of Mr. Roosevelt. It is doubtful if he can reach North Creek and take the train before 4 or 5 p. m.

The trail of Vice President Roosevelt and his guide had not been found up to 2 o'clock this afternoon. Guides were still searching in all directions.

A SHOCK TO WASHINGTON.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The untoward news from the president's bedside came upon Washington with almost as great a shock as was caused by the first report of the murderous attack upon him. Secretary Hay was among the first notified of the turn for the worse in the early morning and he considered for a moment whether or not he should hasten to Buffalo. He decided not to do so, but to remain on guard at the national capital ready to meet here any emergency that might arise. This decision was in line with an understanding reached between the cabinet members in Buffalo, when it was determined that the secretary of state should await a summons from his colleagues before returning to Buffalo. Therefore the secretary came to his office early and after putting himself in communication with the white house and thence with the Milburn house at Buffalo, sat anxiously scanning the bulletins that came in and awaiting any call that might be made upon him. He looked worn and nervous and anxious to the last degree, but withal he maintained his usual calm demeanor and proceeded with the discharge of his routine duties, among the first of which was the reception of the Chinese minister, who called in great agitation to express his deep concern and sympathy.

Postmaster General Smith arrived here at 9 o'clock today from Buffalo. Until early this morning he had no intimation of the president's changed condition. He hurried to the white house, accompanied by Senator McComas, of Maryland. After glancing over the dispatches received there, Mr. Smith announced that he would probably leave for Buffalo on the first train.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Sept. 13.—Money on call, firm at 6 per cent.; prime mercantile paper, 5@5½ per cent.; sterling exchange, unsettled with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.85@4.85¼ for demand at $4.82½@8¾ for 60 days; posted rates $4.83½@4.84 and $4.86@4.86½; commercial bills, $4.81¾@4.83¼; silver certificates, unquoted; bar silver, 58⅜c; Mexican dollars, 46½c.

NURSES SOON TO GRADUATE

CLASS FROM HOPE HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL.

Within a few weeks a class of eleven splendidly trained nurses who have completed the course in the training school at Hope hospital, will be graduated with honors, receiving the diploma and badge which attests their competency. Thursday, October 3, has been selected as the date for holding the exercises, which will probably be held at Masonic Temple.

The class as constituted is made up of Miss Ella Jones, Miss Parker, Miss Weaver, Miss Barnhart, Miss Collins, Miss Maude Jones, Miss Cameron, Miss Dustman, Miss Rehorst, Miss Shoemaker and Miss McCully. The program for the commencement exercises is now in course of preparation, but is not completed. It is probable that H. C. Paul will present the badges and administer the obligation to the nurses, while President S. M. Foster will confer the diplomas. There will also be an address by a prominent physician, as well as another by a layman. The Haydn quartet, Mrs. S. C. Moffat and others will be invited to contribute to the musical program.

WANT STREET CAR SERVICE

Held an Enthusiastic Meeting Thursday Evening and Have a Petition in Circulation.

Residents of South Wayne, in the vicinity of South Broadway, are determined in their efforts to secure street car service for that section of the city, and went on record Thursday evening in decided terms.

The meeting was called for an open-air gathering at Broadway and Park avenue, but the weather proved so cool that an adjournment was taken to Clapesattle & Felts' drug store, where the situation was thoroughly discussed. It was the unanimous decision that any fair proposition ought to be accepted that would give the people a line along South Broadway.

A petition to the traction company and to the city authorities was prepared and fifty-three signatures were affixed at the meeing. The document was then placed in the hands of a circulating committee composed of Messrs. W. S. Wells, A. L. Randall, H. C. Stevens, Herman Lipes, Julius Remus and William Lawson, and it is predicted that practically every resident of that section of the city will sign the request for extension of the service along South Broadway.

TO REORGANIZE BANK.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Wm. N. Cromwell, attorney; E. K. Stello, Edwin Gould, W. H. Taylor, R. W. Jones, jr., R. Thomas and Horace Raynor, receiver, representing the reorganization committee of the failed Seventh National bank of New York, had a two hours' conference today with Mr. Kane, the deputy comptroller of the currency. The plan of reorganization, which was submitted in writing, will be passed upon by Comptroller Dawes upon his return from Buffalo. The plan involves paying off all of the indebtedness of the bank and resuming business with a capital of $1,700,000, which, it is said, has all been subscribed and paid in. It also involves a new board of directors and an entirely new staff of executive officers.

MAINS-ROBBINS.

At the Simpson M. E. parsonage Wednesday evening, Rev. Patterson united in marriage Miss Laura Robbins and Frank Mains. After the ceremony the bridal party adjourned to the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mains, where an elaborate wedding repast was partaken of, the guests being a number of the relatives and friends of the young people. The bride is a charming young lady from Roanoke and has a large circle of friends in this city. The groom is a well known ex-railroad man, now holding a position as engineer at the state institution. Miss Mary Robbins, of Roanoke, a sister of the bride, was the only out of town guest.

ADJUDICATED BANKRUPT.

Acting upon their voluntary petition, Judge Baker has adjudicated Louis J. Meyer and Anthony G. Meyer, of this city, as bankrupts.

Barney Novitskey, the shoe dealer, had a magnificent sign mounted over his door, on Calhoun street, yesterday.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE

The grand jury has little hope of being able to finish its labors this week. The Dunn case is still occupying most of the time.

Lizzie Groves was this morning granted a divorce from Elijah E. Groves. Judge Aiken made the decree.

The case of Herman Gleitz vs. the Volute Nut Lock company has been consolidated with the case of Mossman vs. the same concern, and the joint issues have been set for trial September 16.

In the case of Welten vs. Welten, a divorce was granted in 1898. Today nunc pro tunc entry of the case was made in the superior court.

Edward A. Ross-Lewin has commenced suit against the school city of Fort Wayne on contract, for unpaid salary; demand, $200. Mr. Ross-Lewin was formerly superintendent of the public school buildings.

Mrs. Ida Ormiston, whose husband was fined in France's court for beating her, has filed proceedings for divorce, alleging failure to provide, drunkenness and cruelty.

Francis M. Howe sues Martha J. Johnson et al., on foreclosure and note; demand, $1,000.

Judge Adair is sitting as special judge in the circuit court to hear the case of Vordermark vs. Wilkinson, an old case that has been on the docket from time almost immemorial.

BIG ENGINE SHAFT

The longest, if not the largest, rolling mill engine shaft ever built at the Bass works is being loaded at that institution today for shipment to Parkersburg, W. Va., where it will be placed in the mills of the Parkersburg Steel and Iron company. This shaft is twenty-seven and a half feet long and it weighs 75,000 pounds. It will take a forty-ton car to carry it. The Bass company, as the reader is probably already informed, is building the machinery for an immense steam plant for the Parkersburg people and a good portion of the material and machinery has already been delivered.

SPECIAL RATES GRANTED.

CHANGE AT ELECTRIC WORKS.

George DeWald, for some time employed in the laboratory at the electric works, resigned this morning for the purpose of accepting a more responsible and lucrative position in the electric lighting plant at Montpelier, Ind. He will go to that city tomorrow to be ready to assume the duties of his new position Monday. David McNutt, also of the laboratory, tendered his resignation to become effective today. He will resume his studies in Wabash college, Crawfordsville, next week. Christian Kaiser and E. B. Potter, machinists, took positions with Foreman C. F. Knothe this morning, and Herman Goller, a blacksmith, took a position in that department. Some of the machinery has already been placed in the new addition to the works and preparations are under way for the installation of other machines next week.

DYNAMO SHIPMENTS.

A car load of dynamo machinery will leave the Fort Wayne Electric works this evening for Clarksdale, Miss., where the company is about to install a plant. Other shipments from the works included a big switchboard outfit to the Baltic Mining company, of Houghton, Mich. Early next week the company will ship a 1,200-light incandescent machine to B. E. Dwinell, of Amherst, Wis. Mr. Dwinell, accompanied by A. M. Pattez, a consulting engineer from Milwaukee, was in the city today, closing the deal. They were guests of Williard Knight.

LABORERS CONTINUE SCARCE.

Contractor H. W. Tapp, who has numerous contracts with the Pennsylvania company in the way of putting in bridge abutments, finds his work greatly delayed by an insufficiency of laborers. Mr. Tapp, not being able to get men here, went down on the Panhandle lines early in the week in the hopes that he would be able to find them there. He says the situation is even worse there than here. The farmers are busy cutting corn now and no relief from that source can be expected for awhile.

PITTSBURG ENGINE OUTPUT.

An engine a day was the record of the present week at the Pittsburg repair shops in this city. The engines repaired and turned over to service were Nos. 157, 267, 165, 86, 336 and 116, all of which received general repairs. No. 267, the first class X engine built in the Fort Wayne shops, was distinguished in 1893 by pulling a train load of notable foreigners to the world's fair, included in the party being Baron Fava, then minister of Italy.

CINDER PIT IMPROVEMENTS.

Excavation is now in progress at the Wabash roundhouse for a depressed track at the side of the new cinder pit, upon which cars can be conveniently placed for loading cinders. This is an improvement that will greatly facilitate the handling of cinders, which will be a very important item when the New Haven-Butler road is finished and all the Wabash trains pass through the city. At present cinders are carried from the pit in wheelbarrows and dumped on the flats back of the roundhouse.

WABASH PAY DAY.

Notices were this morning posted on the shop and depot bulletin boards of the Wabash, stating that the pay car would arrive in this city on Saturday, September 28. The shops were very busy during August and the amount of money distributed among the men will be correspondingly large.

RETURNED TO OLD EMPLOYER.

Henry Gebhard is again an employe of the Pennsylvania company, after working in the electric light works for several months. He commenced work this morning in the machine shop. His former service with the Pennsylvania was in the capacity of engineer in the electric power station.

WILL BE ON EXHIBITION.

No. 608, the big Atlantic type passenger engine recently received by the Wabash and described in these columns last Wednesday, will be at the depot tomorrow, in order that all railroad men who desire to examine it can have that opportunity. Another engine of this type is expected here tonight.

TWO SHOPMEN HURT.

WILL RETURN TO COLLEGE.

M. C. Wright, machinist, resigned his position at the Wabash shops this afternoon and will leave tomorrow for Depauw university, where he will resume his studies in the classical course. This will be Mr. Wright's second term at that university.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

A. Herr is attending a funeral and John E. Smith and Otto Schlink are sick. They are Pittsburg shopmen.

Mr. Logan, at the head of the Wabash Paper company, is in the city today, on business with the Bass company.

Mrs. Bennett, wife of E. Bennett, of the Pittsburg pattern shop, is quite sick and that gentleman is detained at home in consequence.

Leo Schirmeyer, clerk in the Wabash boiler shop, went to Chicago last night, to remain until Monday morning, the guest of friends.

G. Bowser and F. E. Lenz, Pittsburg firemen, reported for work this morning, after a few days' absence on account of private business.

George Buehrle has taken a position as fireman on the Nickel Plate and has been assigned to extra work, with Bellevue for headquarters.

Charles Guenther and gang, axle makers, resumed work at the Bass blacksmith shop this morning, after an absence on account of the hammer being broken.

L. W. Darnell, assistant shop clerk of the Pittsburg, is on duty again, after an illness extending over a period of four of five weeks. He is still quite weak.

James Haberly, who was in Albion, officiating as best man at the McDonald-Clapp wedding, resumed his duties in the testing room at the electric works this morning.

Engineer John O'Ryan and Assistant Foreman F. J. Mannix, of the Pittsburg machine shops, will leave tomorrow for Buffalo and Niagara Falls, where they expect to spend about ten days.

D. Benjamin, of the Bass blacksmith shop, has gone to Michigan on private business. John Cole, of the same shop, has gone to the country for a visit of a few days.

P. J. Hanley and August Bandelier, of the Pensylvania coal docks, the former the foreman, accompanied by their wives, are in Cleveland attending the Grand Army encampment.

M. S. Conners, general superintendent of the Toledo and Ohio Central and the Hocking Valley, was once a telegraph operator on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton road, with headquarters at Indianapolis.

All the Cleveland roads have joined in the movement against scalpers. Yesterday they made application to the common pleas court for an injunction restraining forty ticket brokers in Cleveland from selling Grand Army encampment return tickets.

On account of the heavy travel occasioned by the encampment homeward movement the Nickel Plate trains are more or less behind schedule time nowadays. No 1 yesterday was three hours late in reaching this city. She had three extra coaches.

The duke of Cornwall, on his coming trip through Canada and the British possessions, will ride in the most magnificent car ever turned out of the shops of Barney & Smith, at Dayton. The car has been sent to Halifax, from which point the duke will start upon his journey.

The Pennsylvania company will discontinue the Mackinaw sleeping car runs from Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis, to take effect on Thursday, September 26, and the last car for the season will leave those points on that date. Returning, the last through sleeping car from Mackinaw to Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis will leave Mackinaw on Saturday, September 28.

The marriage of Harry E. Rouzer, son of Cassius Rouzer, of Boone street, and Miss Edna Hale, occurred at 8 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's parents, near Bellevue. Mr. and Mrs. Rouzer left today for Buffalo, where they will spend a week, and then go to the seashore for a short stay. They will come here for a visit with the groom's parents in three or four weeks. Harry Rouzer is a passenger brakeman on the Nickel Plate road, with headquarters in Bellevue.

Sparrows cause considerable annoyance to the railway men by building nests in the spouts at the water stands along the lines. An engineer said last evening that in an hour or two in the mornings these industrious little birds would pile a half bushel of straw, strings and like material into the spout in an attempt to build a nest and that this stuff was carried into the tank when the water was drawn, and sometimes filled up the screen over the pipe leading to the engine boiler.

President George Stevens, of the Chesapeake and Ohio, his family and some friends, who have been upon an extensive pleasure tour, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Rabus and other friends for a few hours last evening. Mr. Stevens came down from Grand Rapids in his private car and remained here until today, when he left for Cincinnati. Before the Wabash moved the division to Peru, Mr. Stevens was employed as a train dispatcher and resided in this city. Later he became division superintendent, but held that office only a short time, when he was called to the Chesapeake and Ohio to assume a more responsible position.

VINING.

Miss Carrie Vining, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Vining, of St. Joe township, died at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening at the family residence, three miles northeast of the city, from diphtheria, at the age of 39 years, 4 months and 7 days.

Funeral services were held from the residence at 2 o'clock this afternoon and were private. The interment was at Lindenwood.

BRAMER.

Mr. Bramer, a well known resident of Maumee township, died Thursday at his home east of Woodburn, at the age of fifty years. His wife died a short time ago.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Gotsch.—Funeral services of Mrs. Louise Gotsch will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 147 East Lewis street, and at 2:15 from St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Grand Children's Matinee at the Temple tomorrow. Felton's High-class Vaudevilles. Children, 10 cts.; adults, 20 cts.

BASE BALL NOTES.

The Shamrocks will leave over the Nickel Plate Sunday morning at 1:55 for Tiffin, Ohio, where they play in the afternoon.

Young players are inclined to fight shy of Cincinnati. It is claimed that the budding art is not given a fair show in Porkopolis.

President Meyer has ruled that the two games forfeited to Wheeling by Toledo do not count. That makes Fort Wayne's place in the first division a little more secure.

Third Baseman Hickey, who was signed by Chicago, has been playing an indifferent game and President Hart announces that he will be released. Hickey jumped the Matthews team a few weeks ago.

Several of the big league managers are after Pitcher Wright, of Dayton. But they don't want to pay for him and will wait until the national agreement expires, when he can be secured without expense.

The Terre Haute team, winners of the cup in the Three-I league race, quits the race with an enviable record. During the entire season not one of the Terre Haute players has been fined, or benched, or even reprimanded by the management. How many Western association teams will close the season with that record?

Examination of B. P. S. Paint by
W. W. Daniels
University of Wisconsin

University of Wisconsin.
Department of Chemistry.
Evansville, Wis.
White Lead and Zinc White combined, 91.83 per cent. Lead Sulphate, 1.25 per cent. Pigment for producing color, 6.31 per cent.
The lead sulphate is produced in the process of the manufacture of white lead, and is always present in a commercially pure white lead, and hence should be reckoned as a part of the product.
Respectfully yours,
W. W. DANIELS.

H. B. TOBEY, Manager.

Yesterday afternoon a deal was made whereby Mr. C. W. Bolyard became sole proprietor of the Hartzell Ice Cream Co., he having purchased the interest of Mr. Wm. Soest. The Hartzell ice cream enjoys the reputation of being the purest and best ice cream on the market and the output has been steadily on the increase from year to year. The business will continue at the old stand, 103 East Wayne street. Mr. Bolyard wishes to thank the people of Fort Wayne for their very liberal patronage in the past and hopes to merit a continuance of the same.
